Nixon Heads West, Seeks Farm Vote

Hits Kennedy Farm, Medical Care Plans

LA CROSSE, Wis. (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon zig-zagged westward Saturday, borne up by a flood of "well done" telegrams over Friday night's debate with Democratic candidate John F. Kennedy. Nixon also had a slight cold.

Bidding for Midwest farm votes Nixon renewed his attack on Kennedy's farm program at this western Wisconsin agricultural center of 47,000. He said the Kennedy program of "planned scarcity" would bring "black markets, farm slaughtering and all the evils of OPA days."

At Rochester, Minn., Nixon got an enthusiastic crowd of 5,000 or so at the famed medical center's new airport. Sheriff's deputies escorted the vice president's parked plane on ponies.

Nixon said Kennedy talks about programs, but has "not produced yet" and therefore does not deserve to be president.

Here, where the Mayo Clinic is located, Nixon again criticized Kennedy's medical care for the aged program and added: "Our program is that every person over 65 who wants medical care can have it, but no one who doesn't would be forced to against his will. We think that's the American way."

Again he got in one of his favorite lines: "It isn't Jack's money they're going to spend, it's your money," and another: "The Republicans would keep the peace without surrender."

The vice president was in obvious good spirits when he left Washington Airport on a week-long swing that will carry him to the West Coast.

The good spirits stemmed from the television clash with Kennedy, in which Nixon took a far more forceful, "I disagree" stand than in the first TV debate last week. The consensus was that the

Khrushchev Talks Of Summit With Next President

GLEN COVE, N.Y. (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev Saturday night held forth the prospect of a summit meeting with the next American president despite preconditions already set during the current campaign by both presidential aspirants.

Khrushchev likened the campaign speeches by both Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy to mere words to be tossed into a garbage pail once the election is over.

Khrushchev also said, in commenting on the U. N. refusal Saturday to discuss the issue of membership for the Red China regime, that the Soviet Union's world position is determined not by U. N. votes but "by the economy of the Soviet Union."

Eisenhower — whom Khrushchev has refused to meet with except under conditions unacceptable to the White House—and Nixon and Kennedy have declared they will not confer with the Soviet chief unless advance negotiations at the diplomatic level show prospects of a fruitful meeting.

Kennedy Outlines Five Point Plan To Help Africa

EN ROUTE WITH KENNEDY (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy Saturday said the United States must embark on "a bold and imaginative new program" to help the new nations of Africa develop in freedom.

In a 1,500-word statement, the Democratic presidential nominee set forth a five-point program which he said could begin "to reverse the disastrous errors and neglect of the past eight years."

"This Republican record of neglect and indifference—of drift and failure and retreat—has resulted in a steady decline in American prestige in Africa and a steady growth of Soviet influence," he said.

Kennedy issued his statement on the turbulent African situation during a campaign swing through central and western Kentucky, a state carried by President Eisenhower four years ago.

He spoke first at Lexington, on the University of Kentucky campus, and flew to Bowling Green to address a rally at the court house before going on west to Paducah.

With respect to Africa, Kennedy said the only real question is whether the nations of the continent will look west or east — to Washington or Moscow — for help and guidance in their efforts to win independence and improve living standards.

"This choice may well determine the course of the cold war—whether the world shifts toward communism or towards democracy, towards freedom or slavery

GE Asks Court Order To Halt Mass Picketing

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP) — The General Electric Co. seeks a court order to halt mass picketing by the striking International Union of Electrical Workers at its main plant here.

The company asked the state Supreme Court Friday to grant an injunction after picket-line disturbances led to the declaration of a state of emergency in Schenectady.

Justice Charles M. Hughes signed an order directing John Shambo, president of IUE Local 301, to show Monday why an injunction should not be issued to limit the picketing.

About 3,000 pickets marched at the plant gates Friday.

Only a token force of about a dozen pickets patrolled the gates Saturday morning. Few production employes work Saturdays.

Fist-fighting and jostling flared several times when groups of non-strikers sought to break through the picket lines. About a dozen non-strikers were successful.

No one was injured.

Twelve persons were arrested, including a GE engineer who, police said, swerved his automobile toward pickets at several gates.

GE also filed with the National Labor Relations Board a complaint charging the union had engaged in unfair labor practices. A similar charge was filed Thursday in connection with picket-line outbreaks at a GE plant in Syracuse.

HONOR TOLSTOY

MOSCOW (AP) — Tolstoy days will be held Nov. 17 to 27 to mark the 50th anniversary of the famous Russian novelist's death, the Soviet News Agency Tass announced. The actual anniversary of Leo Tolstoy's death is Nov. 20 and special ceremonies are planned then.

Navy Christens Modern Carrier

NEW YORK (AP) — The Navy Saturday christened the new 60,000-ton carrier Constellation. Navy Secretary William B. Franke said it "is urgently needed" to maintain the striking edge of the fleet.

Mrs. Christian A. Herter, wife of the secretary of state, formally conferred on the huge-missile-defended flattop the name of a famous ship of the earliest American Navy.

Franke, in his address at the New York Naval Shipyard, said the Constellation is needed to replace one of the old Essex-class carriers still being utilized more than a decade and a half after launching. Franke said fast, heavy planes are being operated from the old carriers "in a very marginal manner as far as safety is concerned."

The suspension is for five days. School principal John French stated that picnic clothes do not belong in the classroom.

Unrest In Formosa

Sentence Organizer Of Political Opposition To Chiang To Prison

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Lei Chen, organizer of the first major political opposition to Chiang Kaishek's long rule of Nationalist China, was convicted of sedition Saturday and sentenced to a total of 10 years in prison.

A five-man military court found Lei—64-year-old leader of the embryonic China Democratic party—guilty of charges of attempting to incite riots and rebellion on Formosa and of harboring an alleged Communist spy.

Two associates on a fortnightly magazine published by Lei, "Free China," also were convicted of sedition.

The alleged spy, Liu Tzu-ying, an accountant for the magazine, was sentenced to 12 years' imprisonment and a loss of civil rights for eight years. Business manager Ma Chih-su received a five-year prison term and was ordered deprived of his civil rights for four years.

Official Nationalist Chinese quarters had no immediate comment on the verdicts, but general opinion outside official quarters was that the sentences were much more severe than had been expected. Many felt that Lei, whose arrest touched off criticism here and abroad, wou'd get off with a suspended sentence.

Some said that with Lei out of the picture, the projected China Democratic party may collapse. Henry Kao, former mayor of Taipei and No. 2 man in the party, said its formal inauguration will have to be delayed.

The outcome served to emphasize statements by Nationalist Chinese leaders that there would be no interference with what they called legitimate political activities, but that no mercy would be shown anyone found guilty of sedition.

The government has insisted the arrest of Lei and his associates last Sept. 4 was based soely on the alleged seditious activities, which included "unfounded rumors" printed in the magazine.

Supporters of Lei maintained, however, that political opposition to Chiang's ruling Kuomintang party was the real reason for the charges brought against him.

Stratton, Kerner Express Views On Budget Making

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The governor of Illinois and his challenger took dim views of each other's budget-making abilities Saturday night.

Otto, Kerner, Democrat trying to unseat Gov. William G. Stratton, contended that the governor has cut back every budget item proposed for care of mental patients.

"It would seem," he said, "that we keep our domesticated animals in better conditions than we do our mental patients."

Kerner spoke at a dinner in Kankakee honoring the Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor, Samuel Shapiro.

Republican Gov. Stratton hopped by helicopter along the campaign trail in Champaign County and ended up in the evening in Riverton in Sangamon County.

He stated that Kerner knows nothing about Illinois or its government, and he added:

"If all the plans, the dreamed-up deficits, and the so-called needs for spending which the Democrats have advanced were realities — then the budget of the state of Illinois would jump a half billion dollars a year."

Samuel W. Witwer, Republican candidate for a U.S. Senate seat, spoke in Champaign, and maintained a steady fire of criticism at the man he hopes to succeed, Democratic Sen. Paul Douglas.

Sampling Indicates Debate Influenced Very Few Voters

WASHINGTON (AP) — The second radio-TV set-to between the presidential candidates produced more clash, clatter and sparks, rival victory claims from party sachems, but no clear-cut decision for anybody.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, the Republican and Democratic nominee for the White House, squared off for an hour Friday night before millions of the people for whose support they are battling.

Yet a sampling of reaction over the nation turned up no evidence of any immediate swing to either man.

It was the second of four rounds for Kennedy and Nixon. The first was staged 10 days earlier in Chicago. The next comes Thursday.

This time, the two went in for less nervous sparring, more toe to toe slugging. They accused one another of lying, without using the actual word. The first utterance from either man came from Nixon: "Well, first of all, I don't agree with Sen. Kennedy." That sort of set the pace.

The nominees collided head-on over policies toward Cuba and Formosa in the field of foreign affairs. They pounded each other in the domestic arena on such issues as civil rights and the nation's economic health.

Even though no new issues or new stands on old ones developed, all in all, it added up to a livelier show. Nixon sized it up as "good, sharp debate, not dull." Kennedy's press secretary reported the Massachusetts senator was pleased with the way things went, even though Nixon was hitting him harder.

Kennedy was understood to regard the encounter as something of a standoff. Not so Democratic National Chairman Henry M. Jackson. He said Kennedy added new gains to those in the first debate. A Democratic National chairman, Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, called it "Kennedy by a decision."

Nixon was pronounced a "clear winner" by Republican Chairman Thruston B. Morton over a man he called "the apostle of appeasement."

But a sampling of 100 persons scattered over the country, in cities and small towns, indicated fewer voters were influenced than 10 days earlier, and those only in directions in which they already were leaning.

Ten Associated Press bureaus from Maine to Georgia to California telephoned 232 persons in their areas to reach 100 who sat through the whole hour with the candidates.

Eighty of the 100 said the debate changed nothing so far as they were concerned. The other 20 reported no switches from one rival to the other. Mainly, they said their previous feelings for Kennedy or Nixon were strength-

HELLO OR MOMMA-- WHICH ONE WILL POLLY SAY FIRST?

LONDON (AP)—Polly, the parrot with the broken beak, wasn't talking Saturday despite a threat of legal action.

Two ladies stood by his cage waiting for just one word—the word that would identify the owner of the bird.

If it says "Hello," it instantly will be claimed by Isabella Morrison, 55.

If it says "Momma," it will be taken home by Dorothy Pretty, 49.

Right now that broken beak is holding up pronunciation of the vital word, and all the ladies can do is wait.

The trouble began when the parrot—Polly, for our purposes—flew in the window of Room 301 at a hotel in the seaside resort of Whitley Bay. Mrs. Morrison arrived at the hotel soon afterward and claimed the bird.

"That's my Mac," she said.

So she took the parrot to her home in the shipbuilding center of South Shields.

Before long Mrs. Pretty showed up, took one look at the bird and said:

"This is my Jezebel."

A heated argument broke out.

Then came the threat of legal action.

"My lawyer has written to Mrs. Morrison ordering her to return the parrot within three days," said Mrs. Pretty. "I intend to take the whole business to court unless I get Jezebel back."

Polly stayed silent during the exchange. Neighbors wondered what would happen if the bird resumed his conversational ways by saying "Hello Momma."

U.N. Rejects Bid To Seat Red China

By Closest Margin In Ten Years

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — For the 10th straight year, but by the closest margin yet, the U. N. General Assembly voted Saturday to bypass the issue of Red China's claim to membership.

Only 56 per cent of the members supported the U. S. demand that the issue be shelved. This compared with 85 per cent at the peak of support for the U. S. position in 1952.

The progressive decline in the U.S. margin raised a serious question of how long American officials could fend off membership of a Peiping regime ruling 650 million Chinese.

Saturday's vote was 40-34 to uphold the assembly's Steering Committee, which had voted to shelve the issue for the duration of this session. There were 22 abstentions. One member nation, the Congo (Leopoldville) is not yet seated.

The vote had been tensely awaited as a new barometer of the relative strength of the Soviet and Western blocs. Attention was riveted on the newly independent African states, just admitted to the United Nations.

Most of them—there are 16 new African members at this session—clung to independent positions and abstained from voting. Ghana and Guinea, as usual, supported the Soviet proposal. And the newest member, Nigeria, voted in favor of Red China.

In 1959, when there were 82 members in the assembly, the vote was 44 to bypass, 29 against and 9 abstentions.

This year, with 22 abstentions, it was evident the result could have been a Communist victory if some of these had decided to vote for Red China.

The Communist bloc evidently had little expectation in advance that its fight to get the issue to the assembly floor for full debate would succeed, but the Russians could claim a victory in the lowered margin.

The United States, however, hailed the vote as a vindication of U.S. policy.

U.S. Ambassador James J. Wadsworth said the vote "shows that the United States' policy to keep Red China out of the United Nations, in light of Red China's aggressive and warlike behavior, continues to have the support of the majority of the world community."

TRIPLET BOYS BORN PREMATURELY DIE

SENECA, Ill. (AP) — Triplet boys born prematurely Thursday in an Ottawa hospital died Friday night in a Springfield hospital where they had been placed in incubators.

Dr. Timothy McMullen of Seneca, attending physician, said the trio was about two months premature and presumably was incapable of survival.

The largest of the three born to Mrs. Joseph J. Marzana, 17, weighed 2 pounds 6 ounces, he added. The smallest weighed 1 pound, 13 ounces.

The mother, who also has an 11-month-old daughter, is doing fine, he said. Funeral services were held Saturday in Seneca.

Sub Patrick Henry Prepares For Series Of Polaris Firings

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The nuclear submarine Patrick Henry, a hard-luck loser its first trip here, returned Saturday for a crucial series of launchings aimed at making the Polaris missile operational within a few weeks.

The 380-foot undersea dreadnaught cruised into nearby Port Canaveral and began preparations for the vital shots. Success will mean that by sometime in November the United States will have one of the most powerful and mobile war deterrent systems ever devised.

The exact number of launchings from the Patrick Henry will depend on the degree of success. An official said "a pair of good launches right off the bat probably would be sufficient."

The Patrick Henry previousgy arrived here Aug. 29 after the first Polaris submarine, the George Washington, had successfully fired three of four missiles from 90 feet beneath the Atlantic.

The Navy was talking hopefully then of declaring the Polaris-submarine combination combat-ready in October. The Patrick Henry was to fire four missiles to further prove the reliability of the system, paving the way for the George Washington to go on patrol with the first load of 16 nuclear-armed rockets.

Instead, three of the Patrick Henry figures failed in spectacular fashion.

The first Polaris popped out of the water, but the first stage failed to ignite and the 28-foot, 14-ton rocket fell back, brushing the side of the submerged submarine as it dropped. The second stage fired deep below the waves and flew to the surface, flying crazily for several seconds before plunging back into the water.

The next shot, two days later, was a success. Then on Sept. 22—a day one Navy man called "a black day for Polaris"—the Patrick Henry, with a lot of Navy brass aboard, went to sea for what were to be its final two test shots.

The first failed to ignite and dropped back with a thundering crash on top of the submarine, cutting a gash in the launch tube area before tumbling unfired to the bottom of the Atlantic. The Patrick Henry surfaced, determined the damage was not serious, submerged again and three hours later unleashed another missile.

This time the Polaris ignited, but lost thrust and fell back into the water. It regained thrust, burst wildly to the surface and was destroyed by the range safety officer.

Cuban Prison Escapees Oppose Red Infiltration

HAVANA (AP) — The skillfully plotted escape of 15 political prisoners from ancient Morro Castle here Friday has released a group of former army officers sworn to battle Communist infiltration in Cuba's armed forces.

A comparison of the names of the escapees with those sentenced by a military tribunal last Dec. 15 shows at least 14 of the 15 are associates of Maj. Hubert Matos, formerly one of Prime Minister Fidel Castro's top aides.

Matos, Castro's former military commandant in Camaguey province and one of the revolution's leaders, is serving a 20-year sentence for treason.

If Matos' officers succeed in reaching insurgent forces operating in the mountains of central Cuba, they will give a potent boost to the bands opposing Castro.

Among those who fled Morro Castle with the help of five navy men assigned to guard them was Capt. Jesus Napoleon Becquer Gonzalez, personal aide to Matos.

The major was arrested on Castro's order in October 1959 after attempting to resign from the army in opposition to what he called Communist infiltration. The prime minister was the main witness against Matos at his military trial in Havana two months later.

Military investigators began a large scale roundup of suspected counterrevolutionaries in Pinar del Rio province Friday night. Several women were among those arrested.

Boy, 14, Charged With Killing 3 Of His Relatives

ASHLAND, Ala. (AP)—A state prosecutor said Saturday he would recommend that a teen-age boy charged with three counts of first-degree murder be handled by juvenile authorities.

"I think it is my duty to recommend such action on the basis of what I know at this time," said Circuit Solicitor Frank Head.

Murder charges were filed Saturday against Raymond Eugene Brown, 14, for the knife slayings of his aunt, grandmother and great-grandmother, Sheriff Paul G. Levie said.

The sheriff declined, however, to say where the youth is being held. He said the boy's whereabouts is a secret because of consideration for his family and relatives.

Head said it is possible that juvenile authorities would decline to handle the case, and action then would be up to the state courts.

The solicitor said in that case it would be quite possible that the youth, upon conviction, could be sentenced to death under Alabama law.

"I want to look into the boy's background more—question his family and friends. I am not at all satisfied that robbery was a chief motive for this slaying," Head said.

Officers said Friday night that the youth had admitted killing the three women after midnight Saturday a week ago. He said he entered the house, next door to his own, to look for money.

Levie declined to say whether the youth had signed a statement.

The boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Brown, were being treated for shock at a hospital.

Are Red Pilots Flying Planes For Cuban Air Force?

HAVANA (AP) — Cuba's tiny air force has suddenly turned aggressive in guarding its coasts and surveying naval activities in international waters, after months of inactivity.

The change comes at a time when the Soviet Union has renewed promises of military assistance to Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Cuban regime.

It raises speculations in Havana on who is actually flying the British-built Seafurys which have figured in incidents with U.S. Naval planes and submarines.

The buzzing by a Cuban plant of an American submarine took place Friday only 28 miles from the important Key West Naval Base. U. S. officials in Havana took a grave view of the incident.

In late September U. S. Navy sources said Cuban fighters had repeatedly shadowed air-sea training operations in international waters off the eastern tip of Cuba, involving ships and planes from the U. S. base at Guantanamo.

A week ago Cuban fighter planes forced down a Nicaraguan cargo plane at a still undisclosed air force base. The plane, en routt from Miami, Fla., to Managua, was released after two days of inspection of its cargo and documents.

It is presumed here the Cuban planes are flown by Cuban pilots, although most of the Cuban fighter pilots were expelled from the air force a few weeks ago. The action followed mass arrests of suspected anti-Castro conspirators in the Air Force.

Science At Work

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A Saturn-like ring around the earth, sensing machanisms of animals, and a sea-going tank figure this week in the thinking of scientists:

Climate-Changing Ring

Some Soviet scientists think it might be possible to warm up the climate of the Northern Hemisphere by putting an artificial ring of finely-divided potassium dust around the earth.

Rockets could shoot the stuff aloft, forming a Saturn-like ring about 60 miles wide at heights of 700 to 6,000 miles above the planet. The idea is such a ring would reflect back to the hemisphere much of the solar energy now dissipated in space after initially reaching the earth.

Rattlesnake Tip

Air Force biologists are exploring possibilities of getting aid from such varied creatures as the rattlesnake and lobster in developing improved methods of guiding and detecting missiles.

Scientists long have seen chances of duplicating the sensing methods of bats, moths, porpoises and whales in various kinds of electronic devices, Brig. Gen. B. G. Holzman writes in Science.

Research is also being pushed on such less well-known animal powers as: the exquisite sensitivity of the rattlesnake to tiny changes in temperature, he ability of certain fish to respond to almost infinitesmal changes of electricity, the beautifully designed mechanism of the lobster for maintaining equilibrium, and the ability of houseflies to use their back pair of wings as a vibrating gyroscope for balanced flight.

Informative Teeth

The teeth of seals apparently develop bands something like the rings of a tree, British scientists report. Counting the bands can tell the seal's age. The bands perhaps originate from periods of semistarvation when the seals are moulting each year.

Underwater robot

Navy oceanographers plan soon to use an unmanned device called RUM, meaning remote underwater manipulator, to explore the ocean floor at depths of nearly four miles.

Remotely controlled, equipped with TV, the device consists essentially of a war tank that can crawl along the ocean floor at three miles an hour. It sports an electromechanical arm which can pick up samples. Scientists on shore will control its movements through a five-mile-long, silver-plated electrical cable.

Plan Expectant Parent Group Discussions

The third series of Expectant Mothers' Discussion Group of 1960 will begin on Tuesday, Oct. 18, from 9:30-11 a.m. These mothers will meet at the Morgan County Health Department, 234½ West State street. Group discussions are open to all expectant mothers. These are different than previously where only mothers expecting their first child were invited.

There is an increasing interest in expectant couples to attend discussion groups. The third series of Expectant Couples has been planned for Wednesday evening, Oct. 19, 7:30-10 p.m. If both parents are interested, they should enroll in this group.

There will be eight or ten sessions for each series, depending on the decision of the group. Please register by calling the Morgan County Health Department, CH 5-5111.

The discussions will depend on the interest of the group. The topics should include discussion of pregnancy and care of the infant.

Leukemia is the most common form of cancer among children.

Burning Scene Startles Audience At 'The Lark'

by Malcolm F. Stewart

The Illinois College Hilltop Players scored another success in the presentation of "The Lark" by Jean Anouilh as adapted by Lillian Hellman. It was staged by Darrell Reagan in the Ames Woodland Theatre on Friday and Saturday nights. The outdoor staging and the simplicity of the scenery provided an effective setting for a play which requires simplicity of setting in order to accentuate the characterization of the players. Perhaps the most memorable moment of the evening was the final scene in which Joan is burned at the stake.

The burning scene was effective and the staging realistic. It may even have been a little too realistic for there were those in the audience who seemed to be startled by it. Also, the burning scene taking place off the stage created a momentary difficulty in adjusting to the situation. But there was no question about the total impact of the presentation.

It is the story of Joan of Arc and yet it is not the story, for through her own defense and through the scenes depicting the important events of her life is presented the great faith and conviction of the simple peasant girl upon the background of the political and ecclesiastical forces in all their sordidness and destructive power. She is seen as a pawn amid the forces which have swallowed her up and which she seems only partially to comprehend.

Barbara Hergenroeder as Joan was, of course, the focal point of the play around which revolved all the forces, personal and impersonal, which were pushing for an inevitable conclusion. This was her first appearance in a major role. She did very well. She has an excellent voice and showed real talent. The play itself seemed slow at the start. Partly was this true because the actors as well as the audience were cold in the fifty degree temperature which prevailed. At first the presentation seemed to be somewhat mechanical on the part of Miss Hergenroeder as well as, to a degree also, on the part of Bill Schildman as Warwick and Martin Braeske as Cauchon. But after a slow start, both actors and audience "warmed up," figuratively if not physically.

The high point of emotion was reached in the scene in which Joan recants. The rest of the play, even the burning scene, was somewhat anticlimactic. That is not to say that the final scenes were not well done, but the emotional tone of the prison scene in which Joan takes back her recantation was a little disappointing in comparison with the previous scene.

Each of the principal characters was excellently cast and well portrayed. Facial expression, gestures, as well as voice and lines, all were effectively used. Bill Schildman as Warwick was notable in his presentation of the cynicism and brutality of a-moral political power. Cauchon, portrayed by Martin Braeske very effectively, was the ecclesiastical power caught in the political forces of the time and struggling with his own conscence as well as with the political forces of the time.

In addition, Jack Podner as the promoter, Larry Stowers as Ladvenue together with Monte Forke as the Grand Inquisitor constituted the principals in the court. The depth of emotion, even utter hatred and sinister brutality masquerading under ecclesastical authority came through with the presentation of these parts.

The scenes depicting the important events in the life of Joan were used to reinforce the mood and feeling as well as to portray the specific events in her life. For the most part they accomplished their purpose. The scenes of her early life were for the purpose of showing the initial struggle within her and between the members of her family, consisting of her father played by Myron Hamey, Liz Cooper as her mother and Ed Shafer as her brother. These scenes were effective but there seemed to be a certain feeling of unreality about them.

They seemed somewhat extraneous and to a degree mechanical. Whether this was due to the setting, the lighting, the way the lines were presented or the action, it is difficult to say. But there did seem to be a slight feeling that these scenes were somehow not entirely consistent with the rest of the play.

The scenes depicting the court, in which Charles, played by Bob Broverman, were quite effective. In these Mr. Broverman was supported by Judy O'dea as the Little Queen, Carol Wilson as Agnes, Pat Aputis as Yolanda, Tom Hoefle as the Archbishop and Bob Rumpf as La Tremouille. Each characterization was well done and combined to present the feeling of selfish intrigue within a court for the most part out of touch with reality. There is some possibility that the characterization of Charles might have been somewhat exaggerated. Certainly his character was well presented but at times the characterization seemed to border on the ridiculous to a degree which, at least momentarily, seemed to detract from the particular mood.

Bob Lamont should have special mention for his characterization of Beaudricourt. In a scene which combined the proper balance of humor and feeling, Beaudricourt is flattered and convinced by Joan.

The others of the cast include Roy Swensen as Boudesse, Paul Kupperman as La Hire and Roy Swensen as the Executioner. Each played his part well.

Future Farmers Hold Leadership Training Sessions At Waverly

Officers of all Future Farmers of America Chapters in Section 15 were in attendance for the 1960 Leadership Training School held at Waverly. The school was under the direction of George Brown, F.F.A. state vice president and Ralph Twenhafel, vocational agriculture instructor at Waverly. Teachers of agriculture from all schools in Section 15 aided with the instruction assisted by the state officers in attendance.

Opening ceremonies were conducted by George Brown, F.F.A. vice president and the Waverly Chapter officers. A greeting was extended by Mr. Twenhafel on behalf of the Waverly schools. George then introduced a skit on how not to hold a meeting which was presented by the officers of the Waverly and Franklin Chapters. This skit was followed by an hour of instruction for each group of officers regarding the duties of their office.

After this instruction a film strip regarding "How to Wear the FFA Jacket" was viewed. This led to a second skit by the Waverly and Franklin Chapter officers showing how a meeting should be conducted now that they had received some instruction in their duties.

This was followed by a banquet of ham, baked beans, mashed potatoes, tomatoes, slaw, rolls, milk and cake with pineapple topping served by a Sunday school class of the Waverly Christian church in the school cafeteria.

After the meal George Brown acted as Toastmaster and introduced the state officers present. These were: Ron Gehrig, State Reporter from Wyoming who made some pertinent remarks, Byron Koontz, State FFA secretary-treasurer from Roodhouse who made a short speech regarding the responsibilities of young people and Lynn Laible the State FFA president from Toluca the final speaker of the evening who emphasized the fact that you are rewarded and respected according to the effort that they put forth.

Officers were in attendance from FFA Chapters of the following high schools: Bluffs, Brussels Bunker Hill, Carlinville, Carrollton, Franklin, Gillespie, Girard Greenfield, Hardin, Jacksonville Jerseyville, Meredosia, Northwestern, Southwestern, Roodhouse Staunton, Virden, Waverly, White Hall and Winchester.

Franklin officers in attendance were: Bill Edwards, president; Bill Becker, vice president; George DeOrnellas, secretary; Richy Roberts, treasurer; Gary Bryant, reporter and Wayne Smith, sentinel.

Dog Ordinance In Mothballs For Winter

Jacksonville dog lovers can relax until next April, according to Jesse Wight, city dog control officer—the city's dog ordinance which calls for dogs to be kept on leash or tied between April and October has been placed in moth balls.

Officer Wight expressed appreciation Saturday that so many city dog owners have cooperated in compliance with the annual ordinance.

The protective measure for both dogs and residents will be dusted off again next April. Until then it is OK to let Fido run loose in Jacksonville.

CABLE PROJECT UNDERWAY

An extensive cable project for the west area of the Jacksonville exchange will be completed by late 1960.

R. C. Prye, District Commercial Manager, General Telephone Company of Illinois said Saturday that the project provides facilities that are necessary to enable the company to provide upgrades in service requested by customers in the area. Prye indicated that 68 upgrades to one-party service would be completed in the Mound area and in the Passavant area 32 requests would be provided for. In addition, several new customers will receive service as a result of this project.

When the project is completed it will bring to a close many months of planning and work. Planning has been in progress for the remaining half of the exchange for sometime. Several projects will be completed in the eastern area during 1961.

More than 2,300 man hours will be required to complete the west project. Prye said, "We have installed over 13,000 feet of cable in the Mound area and over 11,000 feet of cable to connect it to the equipment in our switching center at 330 West Beecher street. The connecting cable has over 1,800 single color coded wires in it. This Color Coding is a valuable aid to our cable splicers when putting the cable in service.

"In keeping with customer wishes for ever-improving service, General is encouraging persons in the western part of the community who now have four-party service to switch to individual or two-party service. Our business office is now accepting applications."

The cable project is part of the company's $14,000,000 1960 construction program. Other projects in progress in the surrounding area include those at Chapin, Literberry, Alexander, Woodson and Murrayville.

Loyalties In The War Told At Roundtable

The story of what the Illinois State Register thought of Abraham Lincoln and the Civil war was told Friday evening by Oliver Keller, owner of Radio WTAX, Springfield, at the October meeting of the Jacksonville Civil War Roundtable at Tanner Library, Illinois College.

His discussion centered around Charles H. Lanphier, an able penman who quit journalism "absolutely" three days before Lincoln gave his now-great address at the Gettysburg battlefield.

His successor, the speaker for a syndicate that bought the paper at a fancy price, termed the short speech "a historical falsehood and a disgrace to all white men," as he pointed at Lincoln's declaration that the American government was of, for and by the people.

The State Register was called treasonable but yet it claimed to support the constitution and it went all out in its hurrahs on all Union victories. But the paper consistently pointed out that the war was a failure, that it would not reunite the states, that it was a war put on everybody by abolitionists and "black" Republicans.

But when Lincoln's body came back for burial the paper lamented with his friends and neighbors.

In the question and answer period which followed the speaker admitted that "at this date Lanphier may be considered a traitor, an unloyal opponent of the administration. Perhaps so, probably no."

But the Register did record the feeling of the times. Neither Sangamon county, nor Morgan, gave Lincoln a majority. They went for Douglas in 1860 and for McClellan in 1864.

Jack Kurtz, Roundtable president, presided.

Chicago Livestock Market Report

CHICAGO (AP)—Smaller supplies coupled with improved prices for dressed pork brought higher prices for live hogs on the Chicago market this week.

Prices for barrows and gilts advanced 75 cents and sows ended the week steady to up 25 cents compared with Friday a week ago. Pork loins were quoted at $1 to $1.50 higher and Boston butts moved up 50 cents.

On Friday, mixed butchers scaling 200 to 250 pounds sold up to $18.60 a hundred pounds, highest since Aug. 5.

Cattle receipts were about 30 per cent below last week and the smallest since early April. The curtailed receipts resulted in a sharply higher trend that erased all of last week's decline.

Trading was moderately active throughout the week, with slaughter steers advancing 75 cents to $1.50, the largest one-week advance, since March. Slaughter heifers moved up 50 cents to $1 while cows declined 25 to 50 cents and bulls 50 cents to $1. Vealers, stockers and feeders were scarce and steady.

Sheep receipts increased around 30 per cent and slaughter lambs declined with losses ranging from $1 to $1.50. Slaughter yearlings ended weak to 50 cents lower and slaughter ewes unchanged.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market this week advanced for the first time in six weeks amid mixed business news.

Prices declined the first two sessions and then advanced on the third session as oils reversed the trend with a surprising rally which spilled over into other sections.

Trading interest rotated to the steels and chemicals on Thursday as the list achieved another fairly sharp rise. The upward trend continued Friday when autos joined steels to continue the rally on a more moderate scale.

News that auto sales had ended a two-month slump and had posted a 21 per cent gain in September over the year ago month was an inspiring note. The steels, especially, responded because the automakers are steel's best customer.

The badly battered oils, recommended for weeks because market analysts said they were oversold and provided good yields, were the pivot for the rally. The oils had the immediate inspiration of a dividend boost by Amerada.

They tended to back away on profit taking after their Wednesday rise but enough interest remained to make Jersey Standard, the biggest, the volume pacemaker for the week with a modest gain of ⅛.

Because of the World Series, which distracted Wall Street's attention, volume slackened. At least, that was one explanation given by analysts. In addition, considerable investment uncertainty prevailed.

The Dow Jones industrial average rose 6.28 to 586.42. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 1.70 to 208.00.

Although these averages showed a pretty good rise, gainers outnumbered losers by only 660-616 among 1,416 issues traded. Because of the still depressed level of the 1960 market, new lows for the year outnumbered new highs 165-19.

Volume declined to 12,308,820 shares from 16,852,810 the week before.

The most active stock on the American Stock Exchange was Cinerama, up ⅝ at 6½ on 135,900 shares.

The Dow Jones industrial average rose 6.28 to 586.42. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks

The most active issue on the New York Stock Exchange was Standard Oil (New Jersey), up ⅛ at 40⅞ on 240,400 shares.

Treasury bonds this week suffered their biggest loss since Feb. 22-29. The setback approached two full points in some issues that don't mature for 20 to 35 years.

However, corporates turned in their first advance in six weeks, based on the AP averages. The gain was small and was led by foreign dollar bonds recovering from 1960 lows.

The week ended with the government market showing only one session on the upside in the last 14. That was Sept. 28.

Volume plunged to $22.17 million par value from $28.07 million last week, the best in four months. Daily trading averaged $4.43 million par value, practically $1.25 million less a day than last week.

WHEAT, BEANS POST MODEST GAINS, CORN AND OATS EASE

CHICAGO (AP) — Soybeans and wheat posted modest gains in the futures market this week, but corn and oats eased under pressure of expanding harvests and hedge selling.

At the close of trading Friday, wheat was ¼ to 1¼ higher, December $1.96; corn ⅛ to 1¼ lower, December $1.08⅛-¼; oats ⅛ to ⅞ lower, December 66⅛-¼; rye ⅛ to ¾ lower, December $1.20⅛, and soybeans ⅝ to 1¼ higher, November $2.12¾-⅞.

Heavy purchases of wheat for export early in the week brought buying of wheat futures and most contracts advanced to new highs for the season. March wheat climbed to more than $2 a bushel on Tuesday, the first time it has reached the $2 mark since last May. At Friday's close it was still above $2.

Firmness in the bread grain was attributed to buying by commercial interests against the sale of more than 13 million bushels of wheat to India, together with other smaller foreign demand.

Reports from the southwest that wheat farmers there were reluctant to sell farm stocks at prevailing prices also contributed to strength in wheat futures. But offerings out of interior and terminal storage were said to be increasing, apparently to make way for other crops.

Advances in soybeans early in the week were attributed mainly to a private estimate that the 1960 crop will be around 10 million bushels fewer than the government's Sept. 1 estimate of 566 million bushels.

Toward the end of the week, however, many traders were moving cautiously, pending issuance of a new government crop report Tuesday. It was considered a certainty among traders that prices for soybean futures would go higher if the report shows a smaller yield than previously estimated.

There has been little enthusiasm for the feed grains the past few weeks and liquidation accounts for the decline in corn and oats. Prospects for the second largest corn crop in history contributed to the downturn.

Nixon Heads West, Seeks Farm Vote

image Nixon projected this time was a great improvement.

More than a thousand telegrams poured in overnight. By the nature of things, something like 99 per cent of them appeared to come from Republican partisans.

About that cold: Nixon said at Washington Airport that he was wringing wet after his hour-long struggle with Kennedy—"I'm a sweater, you know." He added that as he drove home from the TV studio the window of his Cadillac limousine refused to roll up and "I woke up today with a cold."

Nixon's redoubled attack on the Kennedy farm program followed the lines of one he launched last week in New Jersey, but he stepped up the sharpness of his language.

He reiterated his charge that the Kennedy program would bring back rigid controls with "harsh penalties and fines" and even jail sentences for producers who exceed their quota.

He also said again Kennedy's proposals would raise consumer food prices by 25 per cent, throw out of work a million workers in farm-related jobs, and force a million workers off farms.

Nixon quoted Henry A. Wallace, former vice president and secretary of agriculture under Democratic administrations, as saying the Kennedy program would "require stricter controls than they have in most Communist countries."

Nixon added that Wallace has said he discussed "this same income parity scheme 27 years ago." They rejected it, he said, "because it would require the licensing of every farm, every field and every handler of farm products."

ESTIMATED RECEIPTS

CHICAGO (AP) — Estimated livestock receipts for Monday are 7,000 hogs, 21,000 cattle and 2,000 sheep.

Indiana Bows To Oregon State

Associated Press Sports Writer
By DALE BURGESS

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Fullback Chuck Marshall of Oregon State banged through Indiana for two fourth-quarter touxhdowns Saturday and the Beavers spoiled the opening of the Hoosiers' new stadium, 20-6.

Only 23,594 fans turned out under threatening skies in the ultra-modern sturcture, seating 48,344.

The Pacific Northwest team, playing Indiana for the first time, scored in the second quarter on Don Kasso's two-yard plunge. Tim Ankersen's extra-point kick provided a margin that would have been enough.

Indiana's Nate Ramsey ran nine yards for a third-quarter touchdown but the conversion kick failed. Earl Faison, giant Indiana end, set it up by blocking a punt on the Beavers' eleven.

Marking up its third victory in four starts, Oregon State wore down the Hoosiers' thin ranks in the final period. Marshall plunged a yard in a drive starting on the Beaver 44. Then Oregon State moved 63 yards in eight plays and Marshall skirted end for the last 13.

The battle of the two single-wing teams was mainly a running contest but passing of Oregon State's Terry Baker was effective on occasion. He hit Fred Jones for 17 yards in one of the Beaver's first scoring drives of the final period. He threw to Mike Kirby for 20 yards and to Gene Hilliard for 10 in the first touchdown drive.

Baker clicked for 47 yards on only four pass attempts.

Indiana failed to complete a pass officially in seven tries, with two interceptions. It thought it had one for a touchdown in the second quarter but it was nullified by an illegal motion penalty.

Little Joe Maroon, hard-working Indiana tailback, fumbled, picked up the ball and passed 35 yards to bill Olsavsky for the no-counter.

The 6-foot-5, 235-pound Faison stood out for Indiana on defense, recovering one Oregon State fumble in addition to blocking the punt.

Indiana used seven backs but Maroon and Ramsey were the workhorses. Maroon had a net gain of 66 yards in 19 carries, Ramsey 64 yards in 10.

Kennedy Outlines Five Point Plan To Help Africa

—in the years to come," Kennedy said.

Kennedy's program for Africa listed these points:

1. America must ally itself with the rising tide of nationalism in Africa. "It is vital that we unequivocally place ourselves on the side of man's right to govern himself."

2. "We must make the United Nations the central instrument of our energies and policies in Africa."

3. To meet the educational needs of Africa, the United States must greatly increase the number of African students brought here for university training and also establish a multination African education development fund. He added that while Africa builds its own educational system "we will send a stream of experts and educators, engineers and technicians, to train Africa in the tools of modern production and modern agriculture, and in the skills and knowledge essential to the conduct of government."

4. The United States must establish a multilateral development loan fund directed by Western and African nations, with the expense borne by all the Western Allies.

5. Stimulate private investment in Africa. "The capital needs of Africa are far too great ever to be met by government alone."

Cheering crowds greeted the Democratic candidate at each of his Kentucky stops Saturday. Police estimated 5,000 persons were on hand at Alben Barkley Field in Paducah when Kennedy arrived there. Paducah was the home of the late Democratic vice president.

Kennedy's advance text for the day laid principal stress on his farm program, saying that other crops should be under the same sort of price and production controls that have worked well in tobacco. But he departed frequently from this to hammer at what he contends is the need for a Democratic administration to meet the changing times.

Science Club Sees Floral Demonstration

The Woodson Household Science Club met October 5 at the home of Mrs. Laurance Fisher with Mrs. Harry Bourn as assistant hostess. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Amos Western. Roll call was answered by 19 members naming an autumn flower. The secretary's report was given by Mrs. Dale White.

Mrs. Harry Bourn gave the treasurer's report. It was voted to hold an auction at the November meeting. Mrs. Laurance Fisher was in charge of the program. She introduced Mrs. Frank Crawley who gave a very interesting program on dry flower arrangements. She displayed some beautiful arrangements made from weeds, leaves, bark and other natural objects.

The social hour was in charge of Mrs. Harry Craig who had a contest on making flower baskets. Prizes were won by Mrs. Dick Sayre and Mrs. William Martin. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. William Martin in Roodhouse. Mrs. Frank Hembrough will assist.

Guests for the afternoon were Mrs. Dick Sayre, Mrs. Milton Seymour, Miss Karen McCormick, Mrs. Frank Crawley and Mike Bourn. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

U.N. REJECTS BID TO SEAT RED CHINA

India, a leading nation among the so-called neutralists, led a last-ditch fight to keep the assembly from brushing aside the Red China issue. But its delegate, V. K. Krishna Menon was overruled in an attempt to persuade the assembly to require a two thirds vote on the issue, rather than a simple majority. A two-thirds vote requirement would have defeated the United States on the issue even before the latest vote.

The assembly then adjourned until Monday.

—O—

Someone immuned to shock should be writing this about that 74-0 drubbing against the Tigers at Beardstown Friday night. We still haven't recovered and are wondering just what in the world happened to Beardstown. Are the Crimsons that good or was Beardstown that bad? Maybe it was a little of both but still you can't take anything away from Jacksonville. They were unstoppable as the 518 yards gained statistics will bear out. Of the 158 high school scores carried by the Associated Press on Friday night's action which involved 316 teams reported, the Crimsons were one of two elevens with the biggest score in the state. The other was Anawan's 74-12 romp over Tampico. And that's a lot of points in anyone's league.

—O—

There were a number of outstanding individuals performing for the Crimsons Friday and we don't like to single out any individual player but still you can't side-step the name of Gary Spangenberg, who turned in a helluva ball game. He is twice as good as he was last year and that's quite a statement to make! He can do anything with the best of them when it comes to running, passing or kicking (a prequisite for all-state) but he surprised us with his defensive ability. He diagnoses plays rapidly whether it be a pass defender to cover or come up fast from his halfback slot to nail a runner bucking the line or trying to cut the corner on an end run. Improving fast and gaining a lot of respectibility on defense are Jack McCarty, Erland Thady and Ron Tomhave. Pited with Spangenberg, these four are about the toughest "little guys" we've watched in operation. Of course, there are the big guys such as Ken Norton, Wes Coulter, Jono Hildner, John Wright, Rich Spencer and a few others but you more or less expect this of them because of their size.

—O—

One sub in particular that caught our defensive eye against the Tigers was sophomore Larry Hacker, who made some fine tackles. And there are some other promising sophomores that will be in varsity gear next year. Even the JHS freshmen seem eager for the game and we can't help but feel that the Crimsons are going to be up for quite a few years now. There are names too numerous to mention that deserve recognition but their time will come in sterner tests that the one at Beardstown.

—O—

Coach Bob Kraushaar could reach the 100 win mark this season if his Crimsons will maintain their hustle and desire the rest of the season as they displayed in the past four games. In his 17 years at JHS, Bob's teams have amassed 96 wins, 43 losses and six ties. The Crimsons have five remaining games left in 1960 and nothing would please him more than to reach or go over the century mark. It is a rarety to achieve and is very seldom done (at least while at the same school). It also takes quite a spell, eh, Robert? Especially at the young age of 36!

—O—

When was football at Jacksonville High originated? We couldn't find the corect answer Saturday so Kraushaar went to the yearbooks. Guess what '60 Crimsons? Your 74 points was 17 short of the biggest score ever recorded in the annuals and it was the first on one on record that dated back to 1914. Clay Killebrew, whose boy, Harmon, now plays for the Washington Senators, was the captain that year and JHS smothered White Hall, 91-0. The same team also whipped Quincy, 73-14, so your 74 points must be second highest in the history of the school. In 1919, Beardstown was shutout, 60-0, as was Hannibal in 1922, 59-0, and Industry in 1934, 65-0. The worst defeat to a Crimson eleven was a 98-0 shellacking at the hands of Springfield.

—O—

You couldn't help but feel a mite sory for Coach Howard Boudreau's outmanned Tigers in that rout and they have such a nice field. With the exception of bleachers and electric scoreboard, it put JHS' home gridiron to shame. Early in the second quarter coaches Bob Kraushaar and Al Rosenberger were conferring as what to do to try and keep the score down. They tried it with subs and it still didn't help. Kraushaar stated, "I thought we could beat Beardstown but I never thought it would turn into anything like this. What's the score now." We know for a fact that Kraushaar wanted the team to go for a field goal in the fourth quarter when the team got into scoring territory and the score 61-0. The three points would have been less than a six point TD. They set it up that way but a penalty offset the plans and when they tried to get the ball into position again the ball ended up too much at a right angle for a kick. McCarty carried on an end around play and there wasn't a Tiger in sight to stop him so he just trotted into the end zone.

—O—

We've given a lot of credit to everyone deserving but there's one name not overlooked but saved until the last. That has to be line coach Al Rosenberger. What a tremendous job he's done for Kraushaar and the Crimsons. Not only this season but his seven years past. Al definitely has had to rely on patience and understanding in these years to get the job done with the line. Some of the lads he began working with at the start of the season—well, we wouldn't have given a plugged nickle for them then but now it's a masterpiece of precision to watch them in action. They did things against Beardstown we though impossible of them and we won't attempt to describe them because we don't want to hand trade secrets to the enemy but believe us they can slide with the blocker and still get the runner. Another belief of ours, no matter how many games a team wins or loses, the most important thing to a coach is to watch his boys improve with each game and the Crimson mentors are definitely watching this unfold before their eyes. Of all the other Crimson elevens we've watched which includes the four unbeaten squads, we believe this for a fact — the 1960 squad makes fewer mistakes in a game of any as compared to the other teams. But we'll get a chance to see if they can maintain the pace without getting over-confident in the five big ones left.

—O—

—O—

Had a chance to meet Ralph Davidson, the new basketball mentor at Beardstown, and he informed us that his predecessor, Ted Coil, who is now cage boss at Yuma, Arizona, recently underwent surgery for a growth removal in his neck. The growth was maligant but the doctors felt they got it all and now Ted is home taking it easy for a month before putting the boys through their paces in November. Ted had been feeling pretty blue until he received a backboard made up of mums complete with a basket and ball from his former coaches at Beardstown and his wife claimed it seemed to perk him up right away. A rapid recovery Ted.

—O—

Merrit Norvell broke into the scoring column for Wisconsin Saturday and it pleased his dad but not half as much as the win over Purdue. Merritt has been used both ways in all three outings with Stanford, Marquette and Purdue and prior to yesterday's game he had averaged around six yards per try in eight carries. When asked about Merritt's activities on the gridiron, Merritt, Sr., replied, "That boy won't tell me a thing when we talk on the telephone each Sunday. You say, they beat Purdue and the boy scored. Well, that's three straight but whoo—ee, watch out. They got Iowa, Michigan State and all those other—aw man, all those big ones left."

—O—

MacMurray was successful in its first cross-country skirmish against Knox and Quincy at Galesburg Saturday despite the fact that several Highlanders got lost and mixed up in the woods of Lake Story. Coach Dan Unruh's lads have a dual meet with St. Louis University at Jacksonville Country Club Tuesday at four o'clock. The Highlander basketball team is also running but not on golf courses. Bill Wall has his lads running four miles each day at the new athletic field on Routt Street.

—O—

Rocket Coach Bob Winstead was still thinking of Routt's loss to Waverly Friday night, 13-6, their first in four starts. Bob said, "Nothing went right and we played terrible ball, the worst in a number of years. Still, I can't take anything away from Waverly as they had a tough line and they outplayed us all the way. Their backs, Steve Stults, Jim Fitzpatrick, Jay Dunseth and Vern Minor were outstanding. But Larry Green their junior guard killed us. He was in our backfield all night and made numerous tackles. Most of the time they threw a 5-5-1 defense at us and we couldn't go anywhere as they keyed off on our flanking receivers." The Rockets had left end Ed Carroll out of commission with a dislocated thumb from a practice session Wednesday and they felt his loss both ways. But the biggest blow came Saturday when it was learned that Bucky Sullivan may have a fracture of the knee. If this is true, then Winstead is without a quarterback. Sullivan was injured in the opening minutes of the third quarter and at first it appeared to be a bad sprain. X-rays were taken Saturday but to make certain of the injury additional pictures will be taken sometime this week. Carroll will get back into action next week but it's doubtful if Sullivan will get back into uniform this season and he may miss a big portion of the cage season if the knee is fractured.

Murtaugh Says Drubbing Was Heck Of A Present

By JOE BRADIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—"It was a heck of a birthday present," snorted Danny Murtaugh of Pittsburgh Saturday after his Pirates took a 10-0 shellacking from the New York Yankees.

"But we're not the only club that Whitey Ford has made look bad," added the Pirates' skipper. "But it sure didn't make me any younger."

Murtaugh said before the game a victory would be a half present to him. The other half present was two packs of chewing tobacco from his daughter, Kathy.

The Yankees made Murtaugh swallow a lot of juice with their bombardment of 16 hits and the second straight loss in the World Series.

Despite the loss, the 43-year-old Pirate skipper said he would not change his pitching plans for Sunday's fourth game.

"It will be Vern Law Sunday and Harvey Haddix on Monday," he said. "Bob Friend will be in the bull pen. He can pitch frequently with little rest."

Murtaugh said Vinegar Bend Mizell didn't have his usual stuff. "He's a lot faster than he was," said Murtaugh.

Mizell said he was never more ready to pitch in his entire life but "three base hits up the middle—there's nothing you can do about it."

The tall Alabaman was the first of six Pirate pitchers to toil. Clem Labine, who followed, also pitched to only five batters.

Navy Rolls Over Mustangs, 26-7

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Navy crashed in on a couple of Southern Methodist errors for two touchdowns in the first quarter Saturday, then went on to whip the Mustang's 26-7 in the 14th Oyster Bowl game.

Joe Bellino, Navy's one - man backfield of last year's Army game, had his biggest day since that afternoon when he scored one touchdown, passed for one and figured prominently in Navy's other two touchdown marches.

Bellino ran 93 yards on 20 carries from scrimmage, ran back a punt 62 yards, returned two kickoffs 40 yards, threw one pass and caught one.

Bellino pitched to Joe Matalavage for the first Navy score, made the second on a 12-yard run, set up the third with his 62-yard punt runback and contributed a 14-yard pass reception to the 77-yard drive that ended with Matalvage's 30-yard sprint for the final Navy score.

Baylor Crushes Arkansas, 28-14

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Baylor's undefeated Bears ran and passed the Arkansas Razorbacks ragged Saturday for a 28-14 Southwest Conference football victory which broke an eight-game winning streak for Arkansas.

Arkansas tied up the game in the second quarter but Baylor already had proved in the first quarter it was on its way. It had stopped the Razorbacks cold and for the afternoon gained more than twice as much ground.

Sophomore back Ronnie Goodwin put the Bears ahead in the first quarter with a 23-yard touchdown run. Then in the second quarter, after Arkansas had pulled abreast, Goodwin caught a 19-yard scoring pass from quarterback Ronnie Stanley.

End Jimmy Collier scored Arkansas' first touchdown by recovering fullback Joe Paul Alberty's fumble after he had plunged over from the 1-yard line. The Razorbacks drove 48 yards, after recovering a fumble.

In the third period, Stanley broke loose around right end for five yards and the third Baylor touchdown. Second-string quarterback Bobby Ply completed a three-yard pass to end Bobby Lane for the last Baylor touchdown.

Matthews Stops Lane In 3rd

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Len Matthews of Philadelphia unleashed a brutal head attack that smashed the face of Kenny Lane of Muskegon, Mich., into a bloody mess and stopped the veteran southpaw in the third round of their scheduled 10-round fight Saturday night.

Referee Frankie Van halted the nationally televised battle after 2 minutes, 51 second of the third round. Under California rules it goes as a knockout for the 21-year-old Matthews.

Lane weighed 137½, Matthews 136½.

The Michigan left-hander won the first round and looked like the 7-5 favorite he was when entering the ring at the Olympic Auditorium.

But in the second round Matthews got his brilliant 1-2 combination punches working and at the end of the frame Lane was cut over both eyes and bleeding from a gash on the forehead.

Matthews renewed his attack in the third and Lane soon was blinded by blood streaming into his right eye.

The 28-year-old Lane went into the fight with a record of 58 wins and 5 losses.

The match, launching the ABC television network fight program for Saturday nights, was a substitute for the NBA middleweight title fight between champion Gene Fullmer and Sugar Ray Robinson. This fight was postponed to Dec. 3 when Fullmer came up with a leg injury.

Illinois State's running attack fizzled from the start as the Chippewas' defensive team led by Don Schmidt and Stan Kendziorski, yielded only 113 yards. Central Michigan picked up a total of 305 yards with Fisher accounting for 130 and Jerry O'Neil 63.

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP — Augustana rallied in the third quarter to salvage a 7-7 College Conference of Illinois football tie with Carroll Saturday. It was Carroll's first CCI start. Augustana now has a 1-0-1 record. Augustana's Max Peterson tried a field goal from the Carroll 10 in the final 10 seconds, but it was blocked:

It was the Carls' first victory after two defeats in the Midwest Conference. Knox also is 1-2.

Dickinson capped a 75-yard drive by sweeping end from the 6 for a first quarter touchdown, then raced over from the 12 in the third quarter after Dave Larson had intercepted a pass by Knox' Gordon Stagg.

Knox threatened in the first period, reaching the Carleton 12, but Nick Widdess recovered a fumble moments later on the Carleton 25 to start the Carls on their first touchdown march.

Whitey Ford Tosses 4-Hit Shutout While Yanks Chase Mizell In 1st

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The slugging New York Yankees humiliated the Pittsburgh Pirates Saturday 10-0 with a 16-hit barrage that included a grand slam homer by little Bobby Richardson and Mickey Mantle's 14th World Series home run.

While Yankee bats boosted the Yankees into a 2-1 lead in the best-of-seven series, chunky Whitey Ford baffled the Pirates with a four-hit shutout, his first in 13 Series' starts.

Records fell all over spacious Yankee Stadium jammed with 70,001 fans as the stunned Pirates watched the Yanks knock out Vinegar Bend Mizell in the six-run first inning and then roll it up with four more in the fourth.

Richardson, a .252 hitter who had only one homer all season, slammed a 3-2 pitch from reliever Clem Labine into the lower left field seats with the bases full in the first. In the fourth, Richardson set a series single game runs batted in record of six by knocking in two more with a single, also with the bases loaded.

The Yanks, who clobbered the Pirates 16-3 in Pittsburgh Thursday after losing the opener 6-4, boosted their hit total for three games to 48.

For the second straight game, Pirate Manager Danny Murtaugh had to use six pitchers, starting with loser Mizell and running through Labine, Fred Green, George Witt, Tom Cheney and Joe Gibbon. The same five relief men were slugged Thursday. The Yankees in three games are hitting .397 as a team.

Ford retired the first nine men he faced until Bill Virdon led off the fourth with a double off the auxiliary score board in right center. Virdon died on second base.

Bill Mazeroski led off the sixth with a single to left center and advanced as far as third on two infield outs before Ford retired the side.

In the seventh Dick Stuart singled to center with one out and Gino Cimoli walked. A fast doubleplay ended that faint threat.

Roberto Clemente singled with two gone in the ninth and Stuart had a life when Tony Kubek fumbled his grounder but Ford struck out Cimoli to end the game. Whitey, winning his sixth Series game, walked only one and struck out three.

Mantle moved within one homer of Babe Ruth's all-time Series record of 15 when he sent a pitch by Green into the Pirate bullpen in left, about 430 feet from the plate, in the fourth. He also hit one off Green in Pittsburgh Thursday.

The Mick, home run champ of the American League with 40, singled on his first two trips before hitting the homer. He followed with a ground rule double into the right field seats, while batting left-handed. His four hits tied a Series record for a single game, held by many, but he was called out on strikes in the seventh.

Richardson's grand slammer put him in exclusive company. Only six other men ever did the trick in a series, five of them Yankees. His only homer in regular season play came off Arnold Portocarrero in Baltimore, April 30. He had hit only three in his entire major league career.

Shortly after Ted Williams, the retired Boston slugger, threw out the first ball, the Yanks threw out the first Pirate pitcher.

When Mizell walked Gil McDougald on four straight pitches, loading the bases, Murtaugh replaced him with Labine.

Elston Howard's slow roller toward third for a single scored Mantle. Then came Richardson, who fouled off a 3-2 pitch and then hit the ball into the seats.

Green replaced Labine after singles by Tony Kubek and Cerv, and the relief man got out of it without any more scoring.

In the fourth the Yanks hopped on Green. Ford opened with a single to short center. Cerv and Maris grounded out but Mantle drove his long homer into the bullpen, his third of the Series.

Successive singles by Skowron and McDougald convinced Murtaugh he had seen enough of Green. In came Witt who gave up a single to Howard that filled the bases and a two-run single by Richardson into left field.

Richardson's total of 6 RBI broke the old mark of five.

QB Paces Wisconsin's 3rd Straight Triumph

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Wisconsin unleashed a bruising running attack and an tlectrifying aerial assault directed by sophomore Ron Miller and upset Purdue 24-13 on a pair of second-half touchdowns Saturday in a Big Ten football opener.

The Badgers thrilled a crowd of 58,292 by storming back after the intermission while holding off Purdue's mighty offense.

Wisconsin gained possession of the ball four times on pass interceptions and three times on fumbles. Purdue recovered three Wisconsin bobbles and snared three passes.

Miller raced 30 yards for a touchdown when unable to find a receiver open for a pass in the first period. In the third quarter, he helped put Wisconsin ahead to stay with his passing and running on a 39-yard scoring drive, capped by Merritt Norvell's dash on a quick opener from the Purdue six.

With less than two minutes left Miller hit end Pat Richter on an eight-yard payoff heave.

After Wisconsin's first touchdown, Purdue scored on a 24-yard pass maneuver pulled off by quarterback Maury Guttman to speedster Jim Tiller. The conversion tied the count but Jim Bakken kicked a 37-yard field goal for a 10-7 Wisconsin lead before the opening period ended.

Purdue's other touchdown was tallied in the second quarter when Tiller skirted end from five yards out after a fumble gave the Boilermakers possession on the Wisconsin 16.

Michigan Tames Blue Devils, 31-6

By DAVE DILES
Associated Press Sports Writer

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Michigan gunned down Duke's lonesome end passing attack with Dave Raimey's brilliant speed and some sharp passing of its own Saturday and routed the previously unbeaten Blue Devils 31-6.

Michigan's strategy — giving Duke the short tosses to end Tee Moorman — and guarding closely against the longer passes—worked perfectly.

The alert Wolverines gobbled up two Duke fumbles and made three interceptions, all in Michigan territory.

Raimey raced through and around Duke's slow-footed linemen for 114 yards in 13 carries—an average gain of 5 and 18 yards. The lithe sophomore scored twice on runs of 5 and 18 yards. Setting up one of the touchdowns himself with a 47-yard burst around left end.

Two of Michigan's regular backs, left half Bennie Mc Rae and fullback Ken Tureaud, were held out of this first clash between the intersectional foes. Both were injured in last week's loss to Michigan State.

Raimey's speed to the outside tightened the Duke defense and enabled quarterbacks Dave Glinka and John Stamos to come on strong with an effective passing attack.

Dennis Fitzgerald also scored twice for Michigan, once on a plunge and another time on a pass from Glinka.

FIELD GOAL PAYS OFF

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. (AP)— The 11-yard field goal North Carolina State's Jake Shaffer booted against Carolina this fall was the first scored against UNC since 1952. That year Wake Forest's Bill George booted a 9-yard field goal to beat the Tar Heels, 9-7.

Tar Heels Turn Irish Back, 12-7

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) — North Carolina struck for two second period touchdowns and withstood a desperate second half rally Saturday to defeat Notre Dame 12-7 in an intersectional football battle on a rain-saoked field.

A cheering homecoming crowd of 40,000 saw twice-beaten North Carolina achieve its first victory over the Irish in an 11-game series dating to 1949.

The Tar Heels scored on a 47-yard pass play from quarterback Ray Farris to halfback Skip Clement. North Carolina made it 12-0 when end Mike Greenday ran back a pass interception 42 yards.

Notre Dame, harrassed by pass interceptions, drove past the North Carolina 20-yard line five times before finally scoring late in the final period.

End Max Burnell recovered a Farris fumble on North Carolina's 26 and halfback Bob Scarpito carried it over from the 2.

Notre Dame drives carried to the 12, 12, 6, 6 and 16. The first three were halted by pass interceptions and the fourth by a fumble. The fifth was stopped on downs.

North Carolina, beaten by North Carolina State and Miami in its opening games, drove from its 20 to the Notre Dame 15 in the final period.

Fullback Bob Elliott then attempted a field goal from the 22 but it fell far short.

Minnesota Beats N'western, 7-0

By JIM KLOBUCHAR

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Happy-go-lucky Joe Salem, the people's choice of Minnesota football, awakened a doddering Gopher attack for one swift touchdown strike that brought unbeaten Minnesota a 7-0 victory over Northwestern Saturday.

Entering the game for the first time to a howling ovation from the partisan crowd late in the third period, Salem whipped a 40-yard pass to end Bob Deegan to the Wildcat 9. Four plays later regular quarterback Sandy Stephens punched over from the 1 on fourth down.

But the battling Wildcats nearly hung the goat's horn on Smoky Joe in the fourth period when they recovered his fumble and smashed to the Gopher 10 on three third-down passes.

The brilliant Northwestern quarterback couldn't do it a fourth time. Sophomore Bill Munsey intercepted his pass on the 2 and carried it back 30 yards.

It was the third straight victory for Minnesota, matching its longest winning streak since 1957, and launched the Gophers' Big Ten season.

Thornton's passing arm, the Cats' only effective weapon, kept the Gophers jittery all the way—including the final minute when he fired a 35-yarder to Larry Benz.

But here Gopher halfback Bill Kauth finally slammed the gate by intercepting Thornton's touchdown try on the last play of the game.

For Salem, a faithful No. 3 quarterback for two years, it was a glorious moment, and his fans loved it. Four plays after he entered, Salem found Deegan wide open down the sidelines. Deegan took the pass just inside and went to the 9. Two plays gained two yards before Stephens replaced Salem, slammed to the 1 and then over. Fullback Jim Rogers kicked the point.

Thornton, returning to the Wildcat lineup after missing last week's 42-0 debacle against Iowa because of injury, might have saved it for Northwestern but for some tough luck by his receivers. Thornton hit 10 for 27 for 169 yards.

On the final play of the first half he lofted a 49-yard pass to El Kimbrough to the 21. Northwestern's coaching staff at halftime questioned the officials' decision that time had run out.

With Thornton troubled by the charge of Minnesota's brawny forwards, Northwestern failed to muster a first down in the second half until two minutes into the fourth period.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa (AP) — Baseball in the Three I League lost ground in the attendance field during 1960. Only 382,096 fans turned out to see games in the eight-team league. The figure is a decline of 63,431 paid admissions over 1959. Fox Cities, at Appleton, Wis., Lincoln, Neb., and Sioux City, Iowa, showed gains in the Class B League.

Ohio State Stuns Illini In Homecoming Contest, 34-7

Undefeated Bucks Hand Illinois Their First Loss

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Ohio State's undefeated Buckeyes, sparked by a 100-yard kickoff return by Bill Wentz and the excellent quarterbacking of Tom Matte, crushed Illinois 34-7 Saturday in a Big Ten battle of national football powers.

An Illinois Homecoming crowd of 71,119 sat quietly through the first half and watched fullback Bob Ferguson pound out a 13-0 Ohio State lead and then gave up all hope when Wentz took the opening kickoff of the second half and went all the way for a touchdown.

It was the third consecutive victory for Ohio State, the nation's fifth-ranked team in the AP weekly poll, while Illinois—rated No. 4 — suffered its first setback of the season.

Matte, resorting to coach Woody Hayes' "4-yards and a cloud of dust" offense featuring Ferguson's reckless smashes in the line, really opened up the game in the third quarter. He kept the ball on a pitchout option, cut inside his left end and went 57 yards for a fourth Buckeye touchdown.

Despite the Buckeye show of offense, Ohio State's forte was an unyielding defense. Illinois could get no deeper than the OSU 40 in the first half.

In the fourth period, the Buckeye forward wall stiffened and stopped the Illini on the 1-yard line.

Illinois finally crashed through on a 3-yard plunge by Jim Brown late in the fourth period. The Illini, suffering its first Homecoming defeat in five years, played indifferent football.

Johnny Easterbrook, Illinois' diminutive quarterback two plays hot-and-cold, was unable to move his club against the Buckeye brigade.

Illinois' touted tackles, Cliff Roberts and Joe Rutgens, were no match for the Buckeye line, bolstered by the tremendous play of guard Mike Ingram and end Sam Tidmore, who kept Easterbrook off balance all day.

Ohio State showed its superiority at the outset. The first time the Buckeyes got the ball, they marched from their 25 to the Illini 15 only to fumble away their first scoring chance.

Illinois wasn't so lucky the second time Ohio State gained control. Ferguson, a 220-pound junior from Troy, Ohio, led a drive from the Buckeye 41 and set up the first touchdown, a 2-yard plunge by Roger Detrick.

Ferguson carried four times in the drive and picked up 40 yards.

Ohio State made it 13-0 with 39 seconds left in the half on an 85-yard drive in which Matte gained 36 yards running and completed one of Ohio State's few passes when he hit Bob Klein with a 14-yard toss to the Illinois three. Two plays later, Ferguson rammed across for a touchdown.

Ferguson sat out the second half, but Matte and Klein helped the Buckeyes pour it on. Wentz' 100-yard sprint was the Ohio State signal for scoring long runs. Coach Hayes apparently decided to rest the bulldozing All-American fullback candidate after Wentz streaked 100 yards for a touchdown opendown opening the second half.

Matte came up with his 57-yard dash to make the score 27-0 in the third quarter and Klein dashed 42 yards for Ohio State's final touchdown in the closing quarter.

Illinois, although thoroughly outclassed, did something which Southern Methodist and Southern California — Ohio State's other victims this season — were unable to accomplish. The Illini pushed across a touchdown in the fourth period for the first points scored against the Bucks in three games.

The drive was engineered by substitute quarterback Mel Meyers and covered 79 yards with Brown plunging across from the 3-yard line.

Ohio State, sticking to the ground, netted 330 yards rushing. The Buckeyes attempted only four passes and completed two for 33 yards.

Illinois gained 181 yards rushing but most of that came in the fourth quarter when Ohio State had put the game on ice. Illinois tried 13 passes, completing four for 52 yards.

Syracuse Pushed To 15-6 Victory

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP)—Syracuse, shocked by upstart Holy Cross which outplayed the nation's No. 1 football team for 41 minutes, rallied behind its mighty defense and fullback Art Baker for a 15-6 victory Saturday.

The Orangemen felt their prestige and a 13-game winning streak tottering until tackle Tom Gilburg boomed a conversion kick to decide the contest with one second left in the third quarter. Sophomore halfback John Mackey had dragged the Crusaders' quarterback-leader Bill Joern the final yard into the end zone for the touchdown.

The Orangemen's defense, first in the country in total and rushing defense figures, held on their 4-yard line to stem a fourth period Crusader surge from the Holy Cross 20.

Eleven seconds before the final gun, Syracuse clicked on a 25-yard scoring pass. Dick Easterly came off the bench to hurl the scoring strike to Ernie Davis.

Kansas Turns Back Iowa State

AMES, Iowa (AP) — Powerful Kansas turned back a stubborn Iowa State football team 28-14 Saturday behind the running and passing of quarterback John Hadl.

The brawny junior scored two touchdowns and passed for another to end Iowa State's three-game winning streak and put the Jayhawks in the favorite role for the Big Eight championship with a 2-0 conference record.

Hadl's two long first-quarter passes were the difference. He hit halfback Curtis McClinton with a 37-yard toss—the key play in a 66-yard drive for Kansas' first score, which Hall got on a short plunge.

He shot the Jayhawks into a 14-0 lead by throwing another pass which McClinton pulled in between two Cyclone defenders in the end zone for a 27-yard touchdown play.

Iowa State fullback Tom Watkins kept the Cyclones in contention. He scored twice and contributed several long runs.

SOME WAY TO LOSE

TRUMANSBURG, N.Y. (AP)—Lakemont Academy has not permitted a touchdown or field goal in losing its first two high school football games this year. The defeats were by identical 4-0 scores to Odessa and Trumansburg. Lakemont surrendered two safeties in each game.

Dick Easterly, Syracuse alternate team quarterback, played left field for the Orange baseball team last spring.

Illinois College Meets Defeat At Principia

Lifeless Blueboys Taste First Setback In Three Outings, 13-6

ELSAH, Ill. — Lacking the desire to win, Illinois College went down in a 13-6 defeat to the Principia College Indians before a homecoming crowd of 3,000 at Elsah. The same listless attitude that was present among the Blue and White last week at Rose Poly prevailed yesterday afternoon; however, last week the Blueboys were able to bolster up a two touchdown spirit to come from behind to win.

The first score in the game came as a result of pass interception by the Indians' Dave Kahn on the IC 26. One play later the Indians' fullback Dick Powers went around left end from five yards out to score with 13:26 remaining in the second quarter. The try for the point after was low.

The second Indian TD also came as a gift. A pass interception by quarterback Bob Walpole on the Indians' 11 yard line set the scene for the Principia score. On the next play, Indian halfback Dave Gibbs with practically the whole Principia team in front of him blocking, went 89 yards for the TD. The thirteenth point split the uprights.

The Blueboys' six points came in the last quarter with 8:42 remaining when junior halfback Harry Sweet went over from the three. The IC drive started on the Indians' 32 yards line after the Principia eleven had punted out of their end zone on first down.

The first 15 minutes saw both teams testing each others possibilities. A Principia scoring threat was halted on the IC goal line when Harry Sweet intercepted a Walpole pass. Unable to move the ball Frank Harris punted for the Blue and White. The Indians moved the ball again deep into Blueboy territory; however Bob Berry, sophomore guard for IC, hit Principia halfback Paul Hannesson hard on the IC 24 causing him to fumble, and Berry recovered. But, one play later the aggressive Indians intercepted the pass which led to their first score.

IC playing control ball moved the ball, after the kickoff, to the Indian 17 yard line. Two penalties later the Blue and White were pushed back to their own 39. On the next play, a Volk pass was picked off by Principia's Walpole on his own 11 yard line. With 6:31 remaining, on the next play, Gibbs cut in and out of the grab-tackling IC team and went the 89 yards for the second Indian score.

After the kickoff, and 12 plays later another Volk missile was intercepted on the Principia 12 by the Indians' Walpole. Principia was unable to gain as the first half gun sounded.

The second half was just as exasperating to the IC fans as the first. The potential was there but not the driving spark to win. The third quarter saw the ball change hands six times but neither team was able to capitalize.

The fourth quarter saw a small flicker of Blueboy desire. After a blocked punt by Frank Moriconi, the Blueboys drove to the Indians' one yard line where their plays and desire gave out. On the next play Principia punted to their own 38. Sweet and Dick Orendorff carried the leather to the Principia three. From there Sweet took it into pay dirt. The point after was blocked by two Indians.

The Blueboy kickoff was taken on the Indians' 10 yard line back through the IC team to the Principia 33. From their own 33 to the IC 34 the Indians marched uninterrupted. IC's Don Boyer intercepted an Indian pass on his own four to stop another Principia threat.

With less than two minutes remaining in the game quarterback Volk filled the air with passes, moving the Blueboys to the Principia 37 yard line. One last desperation pass was picked off by the Indian's Walpole on his own 15 when the gun sounded.

Lack of desire and good hard tackling lost the Blueboys the Prairie College Championship. Next week is homecoming for IC, but before hope is built up too high for a victory over Simpson College (Iowa) the Blue and White squad will have to build up a different attitude.

Starting lineup: LE, Puck; LT, Moriconi; LG, Berry; C, Harry; RG, Maier; RT, Shepard; RE, Harris; QB, Volk; LH, Sweet; RH, Orendorff; FG, Patton.

A BUDDING PRO

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)— Ronnie Thomas didn't wait long to win his first professional golf tournament. It was the second pro start for the assistant pro at the nearby Duke University golf course.

Hawkeyes Triumph Over Spartans, 27-15

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Iowa showed overwhelming power and versatility in whipping Michigan State 27-15 with a fourth quarter comeback Saturday in a battle for the Big Ten football leadership.

Iowa made two fast touchdowns in the first period but then saw MSU move into a late 15-14 lead.

Then Iowa's Joe Williams intercepted a fumble in the air and sprinted 67 yards for the go-ahead touchdown. Iowa quarterback Wilburn Hollis added one more score with a last minute 23-yard punch.

After Williams' run got the Hawkeyes ahead, Spartan quarterback Tommy Wilson tried a pass. It was intercepted by Bernie Wyatt on Michigan State's 36.

Two plays carried down to the 23 and Hollis ran through the soft middle of the Michigan State line for the insurance touchdown.

Michigan State Coach Duffy Daugherty used his well publicized "secret weapon" to open the second half. Soccer player Renter (Dutch) Kenseling, wearing shorts, and sneakers, kicked off.

The idea was that he was to boom it into the end zone to prevent a run back. But the kick went only to the 6 and Williams returned it to the 39.

Iowa moved to the Michigan State 17 before the Spartans were able to take over on downs. Michigan State then suddenly set on fire and for the first time looked like the team that beat traditional rival Michigan 24-17 a week ago.

It was power all the way for the first MSU touchdown.

The key play was a 23 yard gain by Stewart before Charon ripped through the middle for the last five yards for the touchdown.

Charon drove over the center over the line for the second Michigan State touchdown with only five minutes left. Art Brandstatter kicked the extra point and the Spartans moved into a 14-14 lead.

Fireman Awards To McDaniel And Mike Fornieles

ST. LOUIS (AP — Lindy McDaniel of the St. Louis Cardinals and Mike Fornieles of the Boston Red Sox, Saturday were named winners of the first annual "fireman" awards originated by the Sporting News.

McDaniel, according to the National baseball magazine's statistics, was far-and-away the top relief pitcher in the majors. The lanky Lyndall, a bonus beauty who developed into a Redbird dividend, was credited with 34 points, nine more than his nearest competitor, Roy Face of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The Sporting News' point system is based on one point for each victory or save. A save is defined as a victory in which the relief hurler faced a hitter who represented the winning or tying run.

The 1959 Los Angeles Dodgers won the pennant with 88 victories, lowest flag-winning figure in National League history for a 154-game schedule.

Richardson Achieved Immortality Because A Bunt Went Foul

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Little Bobby Richardson achieved World Series immortality Saturday because a bunt went foul.

In the big New York Yankee first inning, with the bases loaded, Richardson was given the sign to bunt. But he couldn't manage it.

Then with the count 3 and 2 he swung.

"I was just trying to meet it and keep out of a double play," he said with a wry smile. "Matter of fact when I got to first I thought it had been caught, then the umpires waved me around."

It was a grand slam homer for the 5-foot-9, 166-pounder from Sumter, S.C., the seventh ever hit in a World Series.

Richardson went on to crack a two-run single in the fourth for two more runs batted in and a grand total of six, a Series record for one game.

"The whole team was tickled about Bobby," said Whitey Ford, brushing aside praise for his shutout.

"He's such a clean living kid," said Ford. "Last year he hit .300 and was actually our best player, but he never seemed to get any credit."

Ford acknowledged this was his "happiest moment" and that this "was as good a game as I have pitched all year. I kept bearing down all the way. I made believe the score was 1-0 or 2-0."

Manager Casey Stengel said proudly that Bobby "sure has built himself up in this World Series."

Unbeaten Tigers Rout Air Force

By FRANK PITMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

DENVER (AP) — Halfback Don Smith's 90-yard touchdown trip on a punt return capped a 20 point second quarter for Missouri as the unbeaten tigers sent Air Force reeling to a 34-8 football defeat Saturday.

Danny LaRose, Missouri end, sparkled in a magnificent display of line play. He blocked a punt that led to Missouri's fifth touchdown, smeared two fourth-down passes that killed Air Force threats and snared a 9-yard pass for a touchdown.

Quarterback Ron Taylor, pitching out brilliantly on end sweeps, steered the Big Eight title contenders on touchdown drives of 71, 70 and 80 yards in the first half.

Air Force, suffering its first loss in three starts, couldn't drive deeper than Missouri's 21 in the first half.

The Falcons' All-America candidate, quarterback Richie Mayo, connected on 6 of 11 passes for 63 yards that constituted virtually all of the Air Force's attack in the first.

Air Force struck for its lone touchdown in the final minutes on the pinpoint passing of Mayo.

The expression "pussyfooter" was popularized by Theodore Roosevelt.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Half a dozen years ago, the Cleveland Browns and Detroit Lions were in the throes of a playoff rivalry that threatened to last as long as the head on that well-advertised beer.

But like anything made of bubbles, they fizzed out. That's what the New York Giants and Baltimore Colts are fighting against this year as they try to match the Brown-Lion record string of three straight title jousts — old heads.

When split-second reaction depends on muscle tone and the ability to absorb the shock of 270-pound impact, the Giants are going with more than half of their attacking unit more than 30 years old. To the six on offense, add three more on defense, plus a half-dozen others on the verge of antiquity.

Pinning everything on a 39-year-old quarterback is only half of it. Charley Conerly can throw with the verve of a newlywed heaving a bridal bouquet. Frank Gifford, 30, Bob Schnelker, 30, and Kyle Rote, 32, catch it with the eagerness of bridesmaids. The trouble is getting them in position.

* * *

NEVER FAST, THE GIANTS are painfully laggard while professional football is moving into the explosive era of quick touchdowns. The other danger is that injuries take longer to heal with older athletes, and the Eastern champions have not been coming up with great recruits. The best they have in '60 is Lou Cordileone, who has the stuff to be one of the superior interior linemen in the National Football League. The shot in the arm, if Conerly needs relief, is young Lee Grosscup, redshirted last year, but quickly picking up maturity and poise.

The defense that has been the best is going to suffer because Tom Landry, gone to Dallas, isn't around for direction.

Paul Brown has cleared most of the driftwood out of Cleveland, which has to win soon to preserve the old man's reputation. From the squad that last led the East in 1957 only 10 remain. The problem, as always, is no Otto Graham to lead. Ostensibly, they have everything else — good receivers, speed, the best balanced ground game in football with Jimmy Brown and Bobby Mitchell. Milt Plum is okay at quarterback for routine games. His failure has been in bread-and-butter situations. The Browns haven't been able to win the crucials, but now Maestro Paul has another quarterback to share the pressure—Lenny Dawson.

Bobby Layne always said, "All Lenny needs is to be able to play in a tough game and produce." With the Steelers, Dawson never got in. He will with the Browns.

* * *

THE PHILADELPHIA EAGLES showed a flair for scoring in exhibition games. Norm Van Brocklin makes them a constant threat. A rookie, Ted Dean, could provide their outside running threat. Tommy McDonald is close to all-pro class, and the Eagles a year ago weren't far from championship caliber.

If Buddy Parker could get a written guarantee that nobody would get hurt, he could tell Art Rooney to go ahead and make book (only figuratively, of course) on the Pittsburg Steelers. For starting units, they'll stand up with anybody. Their end corps — Jimmy Orr, Buddy Dial, Preston Carpenter and Jack McClairen — is the best. But what happens if Bobby Layne, 34, gets hurt? And what if John Henry Jackson doesn't maintain his exhibition game level at fullback?

* * *

WHILE GEORGE PRESTON MARSHALL talks, the Washington Redskins' material goes to pot. They have good runners (Don Bosseler and Johnny Olszewski among them), fair receivers and poor passing. Their defense is full of holes. Chances are a couple of the better teams in the American Football League could dump them. The best of the Skins (like Chuck Drazenovich and Eddie LeBaron) have been leaving them, while the kids who were drafted as replacements wound up in Canada or the other league.

The surprises in 1960 will be effected by the St. Louis Cardinals. They don't have the stability for serious championship contention, but they've got horses that keep a scout scribbling in his pad — John David Crow, most powerful running halfback in the league, and Billy Stacy, best young defensive back. King Hill still has to justify Pop Ivy's faith he can play quarterback like a pro.

Predicted order of finish: Browns, Steelers, Giants, Eagles, Cardinals and Redskins.

Fire Prevention Inspections To Begin Monday

Acting Fire Chief Byron Holkenbrink announced Saturday that the members of the Jacksonville Fire Department will begin fire inspections in the downtown area Monday morning under the direction of Engineer Alvin Smith.

During this Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 9-15th all business houses within the fire limits and all service stations and other businesses in the outlying districts will be visited.

Chief Holkenbrink said the purpose of these inspections is two-fold. Firemen can point out to the business men possible fire hazards they may have overlooked, and very important, firemen can acquaint themselves with the physical layout of buildings, the nature of the business it houses and the type or as we know it, the class of fire that might occur in the particular kind of merchandise and material used or stored.

In the interest of safety Chief Holkenbrink urged property owners and tenants of buildings to cooperate with the fire inspection squads.

Fire Department members will visit all schools during this week to hold fire evacuation drills, and give a short demonstration of ladder work.

Ruben Soderstrom, president of the Illinois State Federation of Labor, was the featured speaker Saturday at a meeting of the Illinois Typographical Conference held in Springfield.

Soderstrom stressed the importance of labor union support of the referendum giving more money for public welfare and university buildings in Illinois.

He also stated his belief in union members voting for candidates who support labor instead of voting strictly along party affiliation lines.

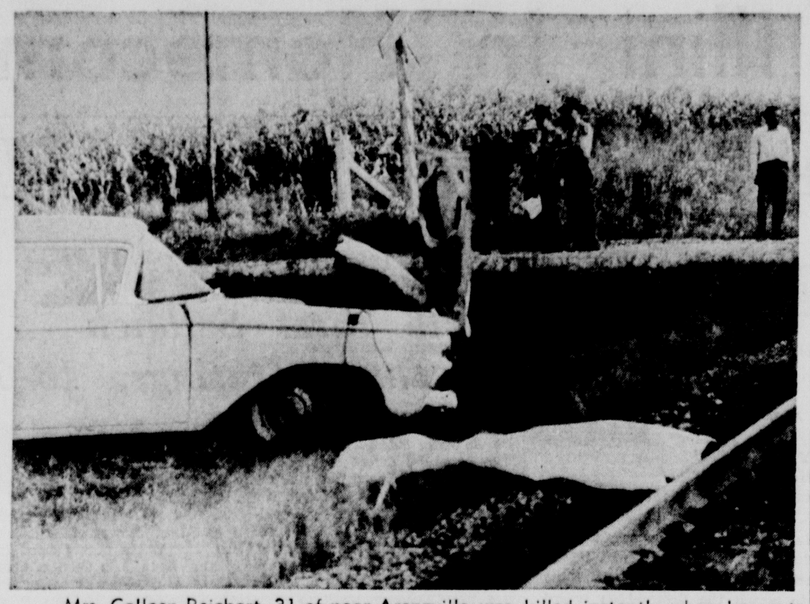
TRAIN-AUTO COLLISION FATAL



Mrs. Colleen Reichert, 31 of near Arenzville was killed instantly when her auto and a C.B.&Q. mail train collided just east of Concord. This view shows the battered auto and Mrs. Reichert's body before it was removed from the scene.

Mother Killed As Train, Car Collide

Mrs. Colleen Reichert, 31, mother of five children, was killed instantly at 4:59 p.m. Saturday when the car she was driving collided with C.B.&Q. Mail Train No. 47 at the east edge of Concord.

Mrs. Reichert was driving alone in the car, having left the Roy Nickel Seed Company only minutes before.

Mrs. Reichert was headed west at the time of the accident and skidded approximately 60 feet before the engine struck the front of the 1960 Ford. The auto was demolished and she was thrown onto the ground beside the track, apparently killed instantly.

State Troopers Richard Owens and Edmund Heyer and Deputies Harold Wright and Clifford Smith attended at the scene of the accident. Slavens ambulance removed the body to the Williamson Funeral Home. The auto was removed by the Brummett wrecker.

Mrs. Reichert's death is the second fatality in less than a week along the C.B. & Q. right-of-way. Clyde A. Patterson was killed Wednesday north of Jacksonville.

The Concord crossing is difficult for motorists to view either direction due to planted corn and weeds.

The train was traveling north at 40 miles-per-hour according to members of the train crew.

Deputy Coroner Carroll Houston started an investigation into the accident and will hold an inquest later.

Mrs. Reichert was the wife of Elmer Reichert, and the family resides on rural route two Arenzville. She was the daughter of Mrs. Harry Drake of Jacksonville.

The body was taken to the Williamson Funeral Home. Further arrangements are incomplete.

Matchbooks, Nuts Clue To Sangamon Burglary

A small book of matches, a pocket full of Cashew nuts, an automatic pistol and about $5 in nickels led Sheriff Staley Keller to a Sangamon county burglary Saturday morning.

Lloyd Lovell and Gus Kelly of Franklin noticed a young man walking along the highway and stopped to offer him a ride. He had no idea where he lived, so they delivered him to the county jail.

Sheriff Keller talked to the youth, Milton Rowe, and offered to take him home. He couldn't remember where he lived so Keller started an investigation.

The boy had a .22 automatic pistol, a book of matches, $5 in nickels and a pocket-full of Cashew nuts. Keller placed a call to the Prouty Elevator in Sangamon county and confirmed that the business had been burglarized sometime Friday night.

The boy finally admitted the burglary, with a companion, and said he was a runaway from Joliet.

Keller held the youth for Sangamon county authorities who arrived Saturday to take custody and remove him to the Sangamon county jail.

TOP DEATH CLAIM FOR ONE COMPANY PAID RECENTLY

A death claim for $1,885,614.00 —perhaps the largest single death claim ever paid by one insurance company, has been paid by Occidental Life Insurance Company of California, according to Joe L. Grojean, the company's general agent in Jacksonville.

Two checks totaling that amount were delivered to a corporation recently in payment of two life insurance policies on the life of an executive. The policies had been issued during the past five years.

Occidental had paid a $1 million death claim earlier this year. The company sold what it believes is the largest policy issued on the life of an individual earlier this year also. It amounted to $3,335,000.00.

COFFEE COOLER

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Dr. Roy W. Carlson, a physicist and engineer, says your coffee will cool faster if you let it stand a few minutes before adding cream.

Dr. Carlson says this is why:

1. Before the cream is added, the coffee is cooling from a higher temperature and hence faster.

2. The coffee is darker in color without the cream and therefore radiates heat faster.

3. Adding the cream, with its fat molecules, slows the evaporation of the water in the coffee.

Dr. Carlson, whose home is Berkeley, Calif., was here as a consulting engineer.

He has a hobby of applying physics to everyday life—for example, how to cool coffee faster.

Lieutenant Charles Wilkes, American naval explorer, first recognized that Antarctica probably was a great continent, in 1840.

Organized by the Joslyn Art Museum in Omaha and the organization of Midwest Designer-Craftsmen, this exhibit is being circulated by the Smithsonian Institution Traveling Exhibition Service.

The renaissance in the crafts taking place in contemporary America is well illustrated by this exhibit of ceramics, enamels, glass, textiles, woodwork, and silver jewelry made by designer-craftsmen residents in the Mississippi Basin. One hundred seventy-five works by 89 artists are included.

Designer-craftsmen are defined as "those who carry their ideas of good design directly into materials in the making of objects for use and decoration." Such works are most welcome in this age of impersonal machine mass production.

Especially outstanding in the show are the off-white, black, and taupe rug by Anna Kang of the Cleveland Institute of Art and the stoneware jar by Marie Woo of the University of Michigan. Both works won the Best in Show award for their categories. Also noteworthy are the glass plate "Rosy-Fingered Dawn" by Michael Higgins of Chicago, the set of stoneware soup bowls by Alixandra and Warren Mackenzie of Stillwater, Minn., the sterling-enamel box by Mary Kretsinger of Emporia, Kansas, the candelabrum by Jack Wright of Topeka, Kan., the silver-brass-and-stained glass cross by Ralph Peotter of Fargo, N. D., and the silver pendant by Ruth Roach of Plainfield, Iowa.

Hammarskjold And The 'Majority'

(From The Christian Science Monitor)

The most dramatic clash of personalities in the current General Assembly session—that is how United Nations reports are characterizing the battle between Soviet Premier Khrushchev and UN Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold. It is also the most significant clash. It involves the interests of all UN members, in the cold war or out.

Mr. Khrushchev was ill-advised to have begun it. It revives an image of a Soviet Union that, for many present delegates to the General Assembly meeting, must have been only a matter of hearsay. That is the Soviet Union of 1945 which, at San Francisco, strove to make the UN an agency of big-power domination.

To ensure that all UN solutions would be acceptable to the big powers (in fact to one big power, the Soviet Union) Soviet delegates at the charter-writing conference demanded a triple veto: over enforcement action by the world body, over peaceful solutions of disputes, and indeed over the question whether the Security Council could even discuss a dispute.

Many of the delegates to the present Assembly meeting will never know how hard the leaders of the free world fought to limit the veto power to its present proportions. They may never know how often the Soviets threatened to "go home" if they did not get their way, even as Mr. Khrushchev threatens to refuse to abide by UN decisions unless he gets his way. But the Soviet Premier is helping them to guess.

Their ovation for Mr. Hammarskjold when he rejected the Khrushchev demand that he resign was a proclamation by the smaller nations that they do not intend to let the Soviet Union cut back the influence they have discovered in the Assembly. The speech of Indian Prime Minister Nehru defending the UN's present structure was in effect a defense of Mr. Hammarskjold against the Soviet attack. It was also, as was the smaller nations' response, a defense of the UN against an infiltration of veto power into the Secretariat.

To equate Mr. Hammarskjold's position with "majority rule" in the UN, as some reports seem to do, oversimplifies it. He has said he will stay in his post if the smaller nations, of whom there are a big majority in the UN, want him to. He can do that until 1963, when his present term expires. This does not mean he is an advocate of majority rule in an organization where, as he knows, one Assembly vote may represent 165,000 people and another nearly 400,000,000.

He is also aware that his reappointment by the Assembly in 1963 must be preceded by Security Council recommendation. This is subject to veto.

Nevertheless, in effect, he is confronting Mr. Khrushchev in an atmosphere where majority opinion is powerful even if it lacks technical means for enforcing its views. Another pivotal factor emerges. That is the individuality of Mr. Hammarskjold himself. As is remembered from League of Nations days, the character of the man in the office in its formative years goes far to make the office what it is and will be.

The Light That Failed

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Premier Khrushchev has been in the United States 19 days and what has he accomplished? Nothing of visible benefit to him. There is a broad feeling he has overplayed his hand.

His American performance will compel the experts in foreign affairs to reappraise him because now they must face this question: Is he as shrewd as he is credited with being?

There was nothing shrewd—so far as can be seen—about his conduct before the United Nations in New York.

He made speeches, demands, and threats. He belittled the United States and the Western powers, made goo-goo eyes at the new neutral nations, and brazenly sought to paralyze the United Nations.

The result: He got nothing he asked or demanded.

Around the world, an Associated Press survey showed, his conduct here was considered boorish, hardly a persuasive spectacle.

President Eisenhower, except for one speech right after the U.N. session opened, stayed away from the meeting of the world organization although Khrushchev was trying to dominate it.

The President has been criticized for not taking a more vigorous personal part in repudiating Khrushchev and meeting with other world leaders who came to this country for the U.N. meeting.

But Khrushchev has slowed down. At least he has quieted down.

Even before Khrushchev got rid of his predecessor as premier, Nikolai Bulganin, to become Stalin's real heir, he was credited with great shrewdness. His final ascent to full power seemed to confirm this belief.

But he may have been credited with too much, and in the wrong place.

A Tammany Hall politician who climbs the ladder from precinct captain to a place in his party's high decisions, must have shrewdness but it may be only of a kind that's successful in intraparty maneuvering.

It doesn't necessarily follow he would make a good president or be able to use the same tactics or be effective in foreign affairs. True, under Khrushchev Russia has come to great military power. It should not be forgotten, however, that Stalin laid the foundation for Russia's present excellence in missiles.

But since Khrushchev became boss Russia's successes outside its own borders have been intangibles, more in the realm of speculation on the psychological effects of Khrushchev's leadership than in facts which can be pointed out.

He has traveled much, met a lot of world statesmen, made a lot of speeches, managed to dilute some of the international fear of Russia which the one-track and very sinister Stalin created.

But there is no evidence Khrushchev has been very persuasive in the world as a whole except to convince everyone that Russia is a giant military force. This much is indisputable.

At the same time he created mistrust of his stability by his intemperate and sometimes child-like tirades against Eisenhower over the American U2 spy plane His U. N. performance raised more doubts about his stability and wisdom.

FINDING THE WAY

The Tragedy of 'Too Late'

By RALPH W. LOEW, D.D.
Written For NEA

Gian Carlo Menotti, the famous librettist and composer once wrote, "Hell begins on that day when God grants us a clear vision of all that we might have achieved, all of the gifts which we have wasted, of all that we might have done that we did not do. . . ." For me the conception of hell lies in the words "too late."

Whatever our definitions of the theological term, the tragedy of "too late" is always the knowledge of the impossibility of turning history back.

This is what we see happening in Africa. If the colonial powers which had brought evidences of civilization to these peoples had also trained them to govern themselves and to prepare for responsible freedom, might not the present have been avoided? For those who desired a chapter of courageous self-development for these people, this represents a kind of hell.

This is what happens in neighborhoods. Situations are permitted to develop, and years later the ignoring of human needs result in a degrading blight upon civilization. We are all involved in this tragedy. Our hell is that we come up with some ideas about it too late.

There's a story in the Old Testament which emphasizes this common problem of mankind. The prophet was trying to rivet a fact on the conscience of his king, and so he disguised himself reporting to the ruler that he had been entrusted with a prisoner.

The guard had been told to care for the prisoner at the risk of his own life. "However" said the disguised prophet, "while I was busy here and there, behold he was gone." The astonished king announced that the guard had pronounced his own doom.

At this dramatic moment the prophet tore off his disguise and noted the judgment of history upon the king and his people with a condemning word of "too late."

This is one of our prosperous society's most difficult problems. Why should we get excited about social needs when we live in a kind of fantasyland?

The tension between the immediate and the possible is slackened, the warfare between the secular and the sacred is forgotten, and the moral seismograph is deactivated.

To sleep while driving brings immediate tragedy. To sleep while handling the urgencies of life is also a tragedy. Great religion may not be comforting; it will probably be disquieting. Do we want to forget the whole mess in the world? Do we just want to be comfortable?

Or do we want to look at it with the sure confidence that it must be handled by those who know that it is redeemable since nothing can separate us from the love of God?

So it's now or too late. It's heaven or hell.

In Hollywood

By JAMES BACON

BRAY, County Wicklow, Eire, (AP) — British producer Raymond Stross has his first ulcer in 27 years in the movie business.

"I'm not saying that Robert Mitchum gave it to me, but shall we say that, by ironic coincidence, I got it while making a picture with Mitch," laments Stross.

I saw Stross over a weekend in this lovely Irish countryside where he is producing "The Mark" with Stu Whitman, Maria Schell and Rod Steiger. Unlike Hollywood producers, Stross didn't ramble on about his current picture. But he was eloquent about Mitchum, with whom he just finished a film here.

Stross's stories are matched by those told by the local citizens.

One bartender called Mitchum "the American Brendan Behan."

Another called him a "100-proof American."

But all, including Stross, say they like the movie tough guy.

Some of Mitchum's escapades reached print, like the night an irate Irishman in a pub slugged Mitch in the eye because he didn't like what the actor wrote in his autograph book.

"I had my warning about Mitchum when I was in Beverly Hills before we made the picture," says Stross. "I slipped a spinal disc and a doctor taped me from ankle to neck and told me to lie flat on my back in my hotel room.

"About one o'clock in the morning I was awakened by a terrible pounding on the door and a voice shouting: 'Urgent message for Mr. Raymond Stross.'

"I feared something had happened to my wife in England, so I struggled to put my trousers on and waddled like an Egyptian mummy to the door. There was Mitch with a bottle in each hand. He came in and stayed all night, drinking and talking.

Mitchum said he was sorry to hear that Stross had an ulcer.

"I cant' imagine what caused it," says Mitcheum, "unless it was the time I slipped that noose around his ankles and hoisted him over a lamppost and let him hang head down for a few minutes. I do that to all my producers. Its kind of playful, I think. A playful set makes for a good picture."

LONDON (AP)—Bing Crosby, in London on a holiday, says he is the most difficult man to cast in the movies.

"I'm getting too old to get the girl," says the 55-year-old crooner, "and not quite old enough by Hollywood standards, to be her father.

VIENNA (AP)—Eric von Stroheim Jr., is assistant director of "The Secret Ways," now shooting in Vienna, his famed father's birthplace.

For the first time, an assistant director is getting almost as many requests for interviews as the star—Richard Widmark.

"But I have to turn them down," says young Von Stroheim. "I can't speak German, and somehow this angers the local reporters. They can't understand why the son of such a famous Viennese can't speak German.

"I was born in Hollywood and have lived all my life there."

Gals Are Looking for Men; Mice Need Not Apply

Memo to young men:

Want to know what girls today are looking for in a man? Well, according to a recent survey of college girls, a full 70 per cent said they wanted a man they could "look up to."

That kind of puts you on the spot, doesn't it? Because it means that you've got to be enough of a man so that a girl can look up to you.

If you've been thinking that you would like a wife who would make the decisions, help you earn a living, cut the pattern for family living and, in short, let you lead as easy and carefree a life as possible you may be in for a jolt. The girl you want may not want you.

Apparently, the pendulum is swinging away from the kind of togetherness where the little woman runs the family and treats papa and the kids as mama's little helpers.

Far from wanting a man they can put an apron on and smother with domesticity, the girls reaching marriage age right now want a real he-man in the home.

They don't want to boss a man. They want a man whose strength they can rely on, whose judgment they can respect, whose wishes they will have to cater to.

In fact, they seem to want the kind of man their great-grandmothers chose—not the kind of man many mothers have been bossing around for years.

So it's really up to you. If you want to be the real head of a family you can. There are plenty of girls who want a husband they can look up to, instead of one they can boss.

But to get that kind of girl and have that kind of marriage you've got to live up to your part—you've got to be a man and not a mouse.

It's really up to you.

Hollywood's Out-of-World As Orbit for Von Braun

BY JERRY BENNETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Dr. Wernher Von Braun has discovered that it's a lot easier to make missiles than it was to make the moving picture based on his life, "I Aim at the Stars."

In a curtain speech at the film's premiere in Washington, the German-born rocket genius, now an American citizen, said that the first thing he learned about movie making was that there had to be a script, that there couldn't be more than five principal characters and that there had to be a love interest.

"There have been a lot more than five principal characters in my life," said the scientist, "but the scriptwriters finally settled on five. Then for the love interest, they invented a glamorous woman spy.

"Half of the picture is in Germany in wartime and half in the United States afterwards. So the scriptwriters somehow manage to move the spy who never existed over here. They were about to have me fall in love with this mythical spy and marry her, but Mrs. Von Braun put her foot down on that."

At A Press Conference before the premiere, a reporter asked Von Braun how he liked being portrayed by Curt Jurgens, sometimes called "the Clark Gable of Germany." On the screen Jurgens has appeared with some of Europe's sexiest leading ladies, including Brigitte Bardot.

While Von Braun pondered his answer, another reporter said, "What he means, doctor, is whether you think you're a better lover than Jurgens is a scientist."

The Upcoming Visit of Denmark's King Frederik IX and Queen Ingrid will end in a special treat for President and Mrs. Eisenhower.

Protocol for a state visit usually calls for the foreign dignitary to thank his hosts with a dinner. But Frederik, who likes to entertain in the grand manner, plans to drive the Eisenhowers downtown for the opening of the Danish Royal Ballet after dinner.

Navy Capt. Ned Colgin of the Pentagon and four out-of-town executives noticed that they were attracting a lot of attention while walking to a dinner party the other night. Colgin was decked out in his formal uniform, complete with gold cummerbund and several rows of service ribbons. The businessmen wore tuxedos.

"I bet everybody thinks we're a dance band," cracked one of the executives.

"You're probably right," replied another. "The way Colgin's dressed, they are probably thinking 'Dig that crazy leader.' "

Officials of the Republican National Committee have become suspicious of anybody who asks for more than one of the Nixon car bumper stickers. In many cases these people have turned out to be Democrats with a scissor-sharp sense of humor. They put both stickers on the same bumper so that they read, "Nix on Nixon."

Just Before Sen. Frank Church (D-Idaho) spoke to a group of school children, a little boy asked the Senator to sit next to him.

"Thanks, fellow," Church replied, "but I'm supposed to sit on the platform."

"Oh, please!" the boy begged. "You're my candidate for president."

"I'm honored," Church said. "What's your name?"

"My name's Tommy," replied the boy. "What's yours?"

Relief Packages for Chilean earthquake victims are still pouring into CARE headquarters with "Chile" misspelled every way imaginable. Scores of bundles are addressed "Chilli," "Chila," "Chillia," Chilly," and Chille." But the most common misspelling is "Chili," the name of the hot Mexican food.

Honorable Status Proposed For Retirement, Leisure

BY MARIE DAERR

Is America too eager to force its older people into a mold of club member, course attender and "senior citizen?"

Do we have a guilty feeling about leisure that makes it hard for our older people to accept retirement?

These questions were raised by a visitor from England, Mrs. Barbara E. Shenfield of the faculty of the University of London. Mrs. Shenfield was a speaker at the recent Fifth International Congress of Gerontology in San Francisco.

"There seems to be an overready assumption that, unless old people belong to clubs and are active, they are lonely and unhappy," Mrs. Shenfield said. "Making old people conform to this new stereotype of the person in later maturity may create demands that some old people cannot meet.

"In the desire to avoid loneliness, inactivity and boredom for retired persons, it must not be forgotten that older people need to be allowed some partial withdrawal from the full impact of their environment."

As for retirement, Mrs. Shenfield pointed out that America's traditional belief in unlimited opportunities for all and success through hard work has made it hard to attach any importance to a way of life that doesn't include a job.

"The people now retiring were born at the end of the last century," she said. "They grew up in a society which made much of the moral as well as the utilitarian value of work.

"This society also demanded much longer working hours than are customary now. And in those days only a relatively few people could afford the luxury of a long retirement."

Americans haven't yet got acquainted with the idea of leisure as an end in itself, unlimited and unrestricted, Mrs. Shenfield believes. This is the kind once pursued by the "leisure classes" in some European societies.

"Leisure was used for personal satisfaction, interest and self-expression," she said. "It permitted those who were free from the irksome need to earn their living to occupy positions of authority in the political and public life of the community.

"This use of leisure was limited to high social status and was envied by the many who could not hope to enjoy it."

What is the answer? Mrs. Shenfield thinks there is no reason why retirement should not be given "an honorable status," envied by those who still must work.

A—If she accumulates social security that is greater than what she gets as a widow, she can receive this larger amount. She cannot receive both amounts, only the larger one.

Q—My husband, who has been contributing to social security since it went into effect, will be 65 in 1962. He retired in 1956. Both of us were self-employed and paid into social security while we were in business. How much social security can he receive at age 65?—Mrs. R. L. F.

A—Assuming your husband was contributing the maximum during the years 1951 through 1956, he would be entitled to a payment of $109.

The immense throng astonished even the democrats and caused the crowing portion of the Republicans to wear exceedingly long faces. It certainly boded ill for the strength of the republican vote in Morgan county, which Yates' presumed popularity was to rally for Lincoln.

Newspaper Writers Get Preview of New Food Items

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Written For NEA

At the 18th annual Newspaper Food Editors Conference in New York, many leading food manufacturers, organizations and allied groups introduced their new products to the 150 visiting editors. All items are now or soon will be in your supermarkets.

Adolph's Ltd. of California presented their new seasoned salt substitute. It adds spice and life to low-sodium diets and comes in 46-gram glass jars. Alcoa Aluminum Company demonstrated its new color-clad aluminum foil pans. Four colors—red, blue, green and copper—applied to bottoms of their 9-inch foil pans absorb more heat to obtain crisper, browner pie crusts.

McCormick and Company of Baltimore and their Schilling Division of San Francisco presented new flavoring items: a gourmet vanilla, chicken-seasoned stock base (a bottled semi-solid), and a gourmet instant minced garlic. The Borden Company exhibited their new whipped cream cheese in 4-ounce containers; lobster and cream cheese, and clam and cream cheese spreads in 5-ounce plastic containers; a spiced pear gelatin salad in 14-ounce reusable clear plastic container and tinned clams a la king. Standard Brands offered their new (free) cookbook, "Catering To A Crowd," which gives help to those seeking ways to raise funds for church, school or club. Includes quantity recipes, menus and market orders.

The questing editors learned some new early morning ideas also. At a breakfast hosted by the Carnation Company, they ate orange mold garnished with fresh fruits and a giant popover filled with chipped beef— both made with instant nonfat dry milk crystals. At another breakfast-brunch, South African Rock Lobster Corp, proved seafood makes tempting breakfast dishes—such as rock lobster rolled pancakes, rock lobster omelet and oranged rock lobster and hominy grits.

Here are a few of the foods (many of them flown in for the party): Smoked salmon, eels, herring, chicken, duck, smoked hams, tongue, spare ribs, reindeer meat, beef steak, lamb sausage, Danish cheeses, salads, breads and those somewhat fabulous Danish pastries, or as they call them "Vienna Brot"—light, buttery, delicately flavored, completely unlike most of our so-called "Danish pastry."

The Danish Foreign Minister, J. O. Krag, welcomed the American newspaper food editors and our convention closed on a ringing note of SKOL.

Monday's Dinner: Rock lobster cocktail, giant popovers filled with creamed chipped beef, green beans with mushrooms, crusty bread or rolls, spiced pear gelatin salad, coffee, tea, milk.

Loveless And Carlson To Air Farm Policies At Rural Conference

Troubles on the farm, and how to solve them, will be argued from both sides of the fence at the third annual Rural Life Conference to be held at MacMurray College on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 21-22.

Both political parties will send top representatives to discuss conflicting ideas on how the various problems can be s- .ed.

The theme of this year's conference is "A Responsible Agriculture Policy."

"The purpose of the conference is to provide an opportunity for the dissemination of information and for discussion of the agriculture problem," says Dean Richard Nesmith, professor of sociology at MacMurray and chairman of the conference. "In other words, we're simply going to thresh out the farm policy issues."

Loveless And Carlson

The Kennedy-Johnson side will be presented by Herschel Loveless, governor of Iowa and chairman of the agriculture committee for the Democratic National Committee. He strongly endorses the stand of Farmers Union with its limited production, strong government controls and guaranteed income proposals.

The Republican National committee will be represented by U.S. Senator Frank Carlson of Kansas, a former governor of the state. He goes along with a more moderate approach to the problem.

Two other prominent men are on the program:

David Angevin, public relations counsel of the National Cooperative League and editor of National Cooperative News.

Dr. Larry H. Simerl of the University of Illinois agricultural economics department. His column on agricultural outlook appears on this page weekly.

Dinner Friday

The conference will begin with a dinner meeting at 6 p.m. at McClelland dining hall. Saturday's sessions will be held in Annie Merner chapel.

Formal invitations to the conference will be sent to all ministers in Morgan county, all Methodist ministers and lay leaders of the Jacksonville Conference, and a list of farm leaders of the Jacksonville area.

But all interested persons are invited to attend. Dinner and luncheon arrangements may be made through Dr. Nesmith's office.

Illinois Farmers Outlook Letter

The outlook for hog producers over the next 12 months continues to be favorable. This conclusion is based on a study of the USDA quarterly Pig Crop Report that was released late in September.

There is a good chance, we believe, that prices of hogs will continue at profitable levels in late 1961 and through much of 1962. But this is only an opinion. Let's get back to the figures in the government report. This report covers ten corn-belt states that produce 73 percent of the nation's hogs.

FEWER HOGS ON FARMS. Farmers in these states had 13 percent fewer hogs 3 to 6 months old on hand Sept. 1 than they had a year before. These hogs will make up most of the market supply during October, November and December. Prices in these months this year seem likely to stay well above the $12 to $13 averages of 1959.

Also on Sept. 1 farmers had 7 percent fewer hogs under 3 months old than they had a year before. This points to correspondingly smaller market supplies in January, February and March than we had last winter.

Thus the prospective cut in winter marketings, probably 5 to 10 percent, will give strong support to prices in the first quarter of 1961.

FARROWINGS MAY INCREASE A LITTLE. Farmers reporting to the government indicated that they planned to increase sow farrowings in September, October and November by 3 percent over last fall. The number of pigs saved may increase more than 3 percent, since death losses were unusually large in the corresponding months last year.

From these farrowing forecasts we can speculate that market supplies and prices may be somewhat the same next spring as they were this past spring. Prices of barrows and gilts last April, May and June averaged around $16 a hundred pounds at midwest terminal markets.

Looking further into the future, the farmers said that they expected to increase winter farrowings (December, January and February) by 4 percent over those of 12 months before. Such an increase would still leave winter farrowings at a comparatively low level, because farmers cut farrowings last winter by 19 percent from the previous year.

An increase of only 4 percent would leave the number of winter pigs far below the number produced two years before and marketed in the summer of 1959. As of now, prices next summer seem likely to compare favorably with the $15 average recorded in 1959 or the $17 average of this past summer.

There is as yet no sign that farmers will press hog marketings late in 1961 to the big volume that brought the low prices of last fall.

USDA Tells Why 'Schmoe' Quit Livestock Business

Joe Schmoe has quit buying livestock from Illinois farmers. As a result, the farmers of his region are better off by several thousand dollars a year.

Clip 15 or 20 pounds off the weight of each hog you buy, through clever manipulation of the scale beam, and the farmer—who sells the hogs hardly notices he's hurt, and you become moderately wealthy. That was Joe's system.

Some of his patrons reported their suspicions from time to time, but the U. S. Packers and Stockyards Act did not apply at that time to Joe Schmoe.

But last year the U. S. Department of Agriculture began to register and receive bonds from all livestock auctions and dealers, as required by a 1958 amendment to the Packers and Stockyards Act. The newly amended law applied to Joe Schmoe, and he was not long in running afoul of it. He started by attempting to register his business in the name of one of his employees. Then, marketing specialists from the USDA Packers and Stockyards Division sold Joe a few lots of hogs on which they knew the exact weight. They found that, each time, the hogs lost about 10 percent of their weight the instant they got on Joe's scales.

Quits Business

When the USDA men confronted Joe with their knowledge of his fraudulent registration and evidence of his shortweighting, Joe suddenly decided to get out of the livestock business.

Regardless of any punishment the Department of Agriculture may decide Joe should suffer for his violations of the Packers and Stockyards Act, he's through cheating his neighbors in livestock deals.

The name is fictional, but the incident is real, and is one of 243 investigations which the USDA Packers and Stockyards Division made during the past year in Illinois. Of these investigations, about half involved money and the others concerned marketing practices and regulations. About half of the money cases were settled, with payments to farmers involving amounts from $40 to $3500

Auctions Registered

Packers and Stockyards Division officials point out that during the past year they have been involved principally in the paper work that is necessary as a bridge between the newly amended act and investigations that will be of immediate benefit to farmers. This paper work has involved registration and bonding of 63 livestock auctions and 292 dealers in Illinois. All auctions in the state are now bonded and registered, but the number of dealers will increase.

Complaints involving short weights, failure to pay promptly and fully for livestock, or improper charges for marketing services may be made to either of the two Packers and Stockyards Division offices in Illinois. Farmers in southern Illinois should address Packers and Stockyards Division U.S. Department of Agriculture, Exchange Building, National Stockyards, Illinois.

Mrs. Jack Smith Talkfest Finalist

Marilyn (Mrs. Jack) Smith of Franklin will be one of the 18 finalists in the Young People's Talkfest to be held in Chicago next month in connection with the annual meeting of the Illinois Agricultural association.

She was one of three finalists in the District 5 contest held in Carlinville Wednesday night. District 5 is made up of 17 counties.

Richard Stone of Sangamon county and Ronald Schewe of Monroe county were the other two winners in the district contest. They, too, won an all-expense trip to Chicago and a $25 government savings bond.

The theme of this year's contest is "Toward New Frontiers in Agriculture." Ed Dalhaus, director of Young Peoples Activities, I.A.A., was the moderator in Carlinville.

The winner of the Illinois contest will represent the state at the annual meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation, which will be held in Chicago in December.

A survey shows that taxes on Illinois farm land totaled $118.7 million, or 24 percent, in 1959. While Illinois landowners paid $3.93 an acre, other corn-belt landowners averaged only $2.00 an acre.

Cow numbers are decreasing faster in Illinois than in most other states. In the past 10 years Illinois has lost 30 percent of its cows, while the whole country has lost only 13 percent.

Fall is the best time for planting shrubs. Shrubs planted during the fall develop good root systems before spring. The soil is also drier during the fall, and consequently easier to work.

To Exhibit 4-H Grain Projects Here Oct. 29

The annual 4-H grain show will be held at the Farm Bureau on Saturday, Oct. 29, beginning at 10 a.m., announces Bob Hayward, Jr., assistant farm adviser.

Russell Meridith, Cass County farm adviser, will judge the entries.

The entries will consist of one peck of shelled corn, or a 10 quart bucket of wheat, oats, barley or soybeans.

The 4-H agricultural committee is trying something new in the X-tra yield contest, which is cosponsored by the Illinois Farm Supply company. This year the contestants must determine the yield of their five-acre plots.

The committee has sent out detailed instructions on how to measure the yield of standing corn. The contestant must return his score by Tuesday, Oct. 18, along with a sealed pint jar of shelled corn. The ASC office will determine the moisture in the samples sent in.

The top three fields will be rechecked by the county committee on Oct. 21, and the winning field will be entered in the state contest.

Gordon Heaton of Lynnville was the county winner last year.

Ten new members—seven girls and three men—joined the Morgan County Rural Youth when it held its monthly educational meeting at Farm Bureau hall Thursday evening.

The speakers were Ed Garlich, farm manager, and Gilbert Todd, public relations counsel, Elliott State Bank & Trust Co. They discussed "Credit and Installment Buying."

Jean Powers and Bill Alexander are the co-chairman in charge of the recreation meeting, a Halloween party, to be held at Farm Bureau hall Thursday, Oct. 20. They will be assisted in making arrangements for the party by Sondra Ainsworth, Byron Ommen, Norman Dufelmeier, Linda Mallicoat and Wayne Waters.

The district meeting will be held in Pittsfield on Oct. 25

Something Different

THERE IS NOTHING unusual about this feedlot scene as long as you have an unusual farming operation such as you find on the Dr. Bill Gross farm.

A bit of the old west unfolds on a small scale, and a little different atmosphere, not too far from the rather tame confines of the city of Jacksonville.

The two year old buffalo cow (above) seems to enjoy the company of the steers and heifers in the feedlot, while seven more of the shaggy beasts are quite content to roam some twenty acres of wooded hills on the farm. When aroused, buffalo are anything but content, and can be very dangerous.

With Dr. Gross, this is a hobby, and says he plans cross-breeding the buffalo cow with an Angus bull. The off-spring of this cross would be called a cattalo.

The buffalo were purchased four years ago from the Frank Phillips Ranch in Oklahoma. Since that time they have produced five or six calves. This year there are two.

MARSHALL CLARK, renter of the Gross farm, takes time to chat with Jack, a four point Oriental Sika buck. Unlike buffalo, these deer are docile creatures. Two other species of deer share the same pen about two acres in size, and surrounded by a recently completed seven foot high fence.

White-tail and Spotted Fallow (a beauty) are the other species of deer Dr. Gross has. They are as yet quite wild. They were obtained in Wisconsin, while the Oriental Sika came from Missouri. The latter are cute and friendly animals and not much bigger than a large dog. These little deer love to be petted but will occasionally square off for a round of antler rattling

THE BUCK AND DOE above are members of the Oriental Sika family. The buck will lose his antlers in the winter and grow a new set in the spring, with one additional point. As the antlers begin to grow they are weak and covered with a velvety coating; but by autumn they become stone hard. The female deer have no antlers.

Dr. Gross says there is some commercial value to this unusual venture. Municipalities with zoos or parks are the main markets for animals of this kind.

Chemicals In Agriculture Regulated By Legislation

H. W. Hannah and N. G. P. Krausz
U. I. Law Department

For more than 50 years, commencing with passage of a comprehensive Food and Drug Act in 1906, our Federal Government has played an increasingly important role in protecting consumers against harmful foods and drugs. During the same time span there has been a marked increase in the use of chemicals in foods. And more recently a virtual break-through in the use of chemicals in agricultural production has taken place, both to protect crops and livestock and to stimulate growth in meat animals.

Consequently, the Food and Drug Act has been revised and amended many times to keep federal control and protection abreast of developments. The interests of consumers and agricultural producers have been kept more or less in balance through the establishment of tolerances for those poisonous chemicals that leave residues on such products as fruit, berries, vegetables and grain. Allowing these tolerances is an exception to the general requirement of the law that poisonous and deleterious substances must be kept out of food.

In recent years two important amendments have been made to the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act. One is referred to as the Pesticide Chemical Amendment; the other, as the Food Additive Amendment. The former is meant to tighten controls on the use of chemicals on raw agricultural products; the latter, to further restrict the use of additives in foods.

Both amendments shift to the producer or processor the burden of showing that use of a chemical ought to be allowed, and both provide for a petition process to be used by an applicant who wants to have a tolerance established.

Provisions of the Pesticide Chemical Amendment seem to have worked out well in practice, but the Food Additive Amendment of 1958 has created problems for cranberry growers (use of aminotriazole), poultry producers (stilbestrol) and others.

Source of the controversy under this amendment is the so-called "Delany Clause," which states that "no additive shall be deemed to be safe if it is found to induce cancer when ingested by man or animal, or if it is found, after tests which are appropriate for the evaluation of the safety of food additives, to induce cancer in man or animal."

Strict interpretation of this clause could virtually rule out use of nearly all growth stimulants. This was certainly not the intent of the law—so now it remains for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to work out safe but reasonable applications of the law so that both the health and the pocketbook of the consumer can be protected.

Total milk production in the United States has held around 125 billion pounds annually for the past five years. Total output has been stable because the increase in production per cow has been offset by a decrease in the number of cows.

Early fall pastures may look good, but in general they are low in feed nutrients needed for top milk production.

Morgan Soybean Plot Yields For 3 Years

Variety	1960 Yield	3 Yr. Av. Yield
Adams	41.1 Bushels	43.2 bu.
Clark	44.0	42.1
Harosoy	42.8	41.5
Lindarin	43.7	41.4 (2 Yr.)
Shelby	39.7	40.5 (2 Yr.)
Ford	39.1	40.3 (2 Yr.)
Hawkeye	40.2	39.3
Lincoln	——	36.5 (2 Yr.)
Chippewa	——	29.3 (1 Yr.)

Lincoln and Chippewa were not tested in 1960.

Clark soybeans, the latest maturing variety recommended for this area, was the highest yielding variety in the 1960 Morgan county test plot, Farm Adviser George Trull reported last week.

"However," he continued, "when the average of the past three years is taken, the Adam variety with an average of 43.2 bushels per acre is still the highest yielding variety.

"But it is still the hardest of our present recommended varieties to harvest. The stems remain green long after the beans are dry."

All of the seven varieties tested this year made good yields, the farm adviser noted.

He attributed this to:

The varieties developed by the U.S.D.A. soybean division and the Illinois University College of Agriculture are truly adapted to Morgan County soil and average weather conditions.

The plots in Morgan County during the past three years were intrusted to the care of young, highly-trained agriculturists: J. W. Johnson in 1958, Dink Ransdell in 1959, and Jack Smith this year.

Not The Best, or Worst

"All were raised on good, fertile ground and had the best of cultural care. There weren't any weeds. Perhaps there would be greater differences in the yield of the various varieties if raised under ordinary conditions. But, the land utilized in the past three years has been comparable to the average land in the county—not the best, nor the worst.

"But the tests indicate to me that our farmers have seven fine varieties to choose from. Which one they choose could depend upon the maturity date they desire, and the availability of seed."

The beans were planted June 2 and combined Oct. 5. Three varieties, Lindarin, Harosoy and Hawkeye, could well have been combined a week or 10 days earlier, but there was very little shattering.

Narrower Rows

This year's plots were planted in 30 inch rows. Rows spaced 40 inches apart are still the general rule in this area, but more farmers are going to the narrower planting each year.

Lindarin, which was called one of the most promising early varieties that have been introduced in long time, lived up to its advanced billing, with a yield of 43.7 bushels per acre.

This season, which started very late, has come along with almost unparalleled speed. The soybean harvest is at least three-quarters completed. Yields on good, well drained land has been high, with quite a few fields ranging over the 40 bushel mark. Poorly-drained land of relatively low fertility, especially those that worked late and wet, are producing disappointing yields. Some of them are making as much as 20 bushels per acre, some less.

Quality Very Good

The quality of this year's beans has been very good, and they've been bringing $2 a bushel.

Nearly all of the winter wheat has been seeded. It went in, most of it, at the recommended time and in good shape. Fertilization for wheat has been more extensive this year than in any other period of the county. A good rain within the next week or two will get it off to a fine start.

The corn, some of it planted very early but most planted behind the recommended date, is maturing at a fast pace and quite a few pickers are at work putting the 1960 crop in the crib. Moisture is much lower than could have been anticipated when at the time it was seeded, due to the splendid drying period of the past five weeks.

Self-Fed Ewes Thrive In Recent U. I. Test

University of Illinois tests show that ewes can maintain their weight and bloom satisfactorily, without getting too fat, even though they are self-fed.

Few sheepmen have ever self-fed ewes, explains U. S. Garrigus, head of the sheep division. Self-feeding usually runs up feed costs, reduces productivity and makes ewes too fat.

The U. of I. has licked these problems by loading 60 percent of a self-fed ration with finely ground corn cobs. Cracked corn, ground alfalfa meal, soybean meal and minerals completed the ration.

The experimental ewes received this same ration, with a few variations, during pregnancy and until their lambs were weaned. Before lambing they received more corn cobs and less cracked corn.

A similar group of ewes were hand-fed corn silage, soybean meal, cracked corn and mineral ration during the same time. Before lambing they did not receive cracked corn.

Heavier Lambs

Ewes on the two rations gained about the same before lambing and weighed almost the same at weaning. Lambs from the self-fed ewes, however, averaged three pounds heavier at weaning than lambs from the hand-fed ewes.

Garrigus adds that the self-fed ewes were more uniform in appearance because the slower and less aggressive ewes could eat all the feed they wanted.

On the basis of these results, he firmly believes that bred and lactating ewes can be satisfactorily self-fed. This method can reduce labor costs and might even reduce total feed costs.

Large, or Small

He also believes, however, that self-feeding is probably best suited to large sheep producers or to small producers who work part-time away from the farm and cannot devote much time to their flock.

Garrigus warns farmers that self-feeders must be designed to satisfactorily self-feed a mixture containing a high percentage of roughage. And grinding roughage is a dusty and difficult job unless a farmer can use modern equipment.

A complete report of this study and others will be presented at the university's annual Sheep Day on Friday, Oct. 28. All interested persons are invited to attend.

4-H Beef Cattle Program Oct. 20 At Martin Farm

Morgan County 4-H Beef Project Day will be Thursday, Oct. 20.

It will be held on the Lester and Marvin Martin farm six miles north of Orleans, and will begin at 1:30 p.m.

Bob Hayward, Jr., assistant farm adviser, says the program will include talks by specialists on beef calf selection, rations, diseases, training and fitting the calf costs and gains, and keeping records.

"Interest in the beef project is building up every year," Hayward observed. "Last year we had 72 such projects in the county. We'll have a good program at the Martin farm and all members, club leaders and parents are invited to attend.

The Martins now have 100 head of calves on feed and another 200 head on pasture.

Wonder World—

ARE BATS BIRDS?

By Rip Barnsdall

Bats are mammals, not birds. Bats differ from birds in the following ways:

The body of a bat is covered with fur or soft, fine hair. The body of a bird is covered with feathers.

A mother bat nourishes its young with milk from its own body. Baby birds are hatched from eggs. The adult birds stuff the mouths of the young birds with food as they are growing up.

Blind As Bat

The bat is active at night. It does not see well. It hears exceptionally well, however.

By sending out squeaks (so high pitched we cannot hear them) the bat is able to hear the squeak sound as it bounces back from objects in its way. The bat then knows which way to fly. The bat sounding system is somewhat similar to man-made sonar or radar.

Winter Sleep

Bats often hibernate during the winter. Most birds are active all year long, although some scientists think that the whip-poor-will may possibly hibernate.

Bats make their homes in caves, on the branches of trees, old deserted buildings, and other dark places. When asleep, they hang from the ceiling or a projection with their heads downward.

Bats are very helpful to man because they eat great numbers of insects. Their main insect foods are gnats, mosquitoes, flies, and moths

Let's Go Birding—

Skylarks Live Up To Poetic Fame

By Emma Mae Leonhard

Readers of English literature, particularly of English poetry, have met references to both the English Skylark and to the Nightingale.

Who hasn't enjoyed the spirit buoyancy in Shelley's "Ode to the Skylark?" Or the impatient attitude toward life in Wordsworth's earlier "Skylark" in contrast to his philosophical approach to the meaning of life in his later "Skylark?"

In Shakespeare's and Shelley's poems skylarks are the very essence of pure air, of pure music falling from the very heavens, of happiness unadulterated with earthly realities.

Skylark At Dawn

Skylarks are also generally associated with the sunrise and the early morning. Last summer while I was in England, like all other admirers of the spirit which the poet has caught from the Skylark, I desired to see and hear this "unembodied bird" of happiness, the bird that possessed the secret massage of happiness which Shelley wished to extract and share with all mankind.

When I asked an English gentleman where I could hear the Skylark, he answered, "You must get up early to hear it." I assured him that this would be no hardship.

Although, at a previous visit in England, I thought that I had seen a Skylark, I hadn't been sure enough to put it on my life list of birds. Consequently I resolved to settle the issue with myself; I would find the bird and hear its song, however difficult the search might be.

And then it proved to be easier than I had anticipated. Early one morning in June as three of us were leisurely driving through rural England, it was not long before I detected a brown bird flying across the meadow. It had a longish tail with conspicuous white outer feathers. It answered to the description of a Skylark.

We stopped the car as soon as we found a convenient spot, but by that time the bird had settled into the lush growth of the meadow. I knew that, even if I had wanted to trespass on some Englishman's private meadow or to wade through a growth heavy with dew, the chance of finding the bird was definitely against me.

I was already to climb back into the car, when I heard an outpouring of song such as I had never heard before. It kept on and on—an indescribable high pitched, musical outpouring. I wondered whether the bird in the grass was rolling out this song.

Song From Heaven

Then the song seemed to be falling from above. I scanned the clear sky intently.

High up I detected a small moving speck. It seemed to be hovering and yet lowering itself. It was not long until it came into easy view; yet it continued to hover and descend quite slowly, singing that same outpouring of musical jumbled notes.

It never ceased its shower of song until it flew down into the meadow. Again I saw clearly that longish tail with its conspicuous white outer feathers. I was seeing and hearing an English Skylark. My anticipation had been fulfilled.

Ironically, from that time I heard, without any effort, other Skylarks singing, not necessarily in the morning. Late one afternoon, as I stood on the wide rolling plain gazing at Stonehenge, I saw and heard another Skylark which seemed to be flooding those austere massive stones with the light of song.

It was then that I knew that the poets had not built up an anticipation which could not be satisfied

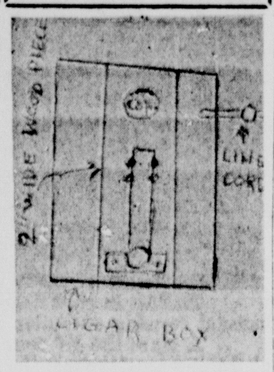
CQ Radio Hams—

Code Device For Beginner

By Joseph A. Smith



If you're a boy scout or beginner in radio amateur ranks and short of cash right now, you can still learn that code with the help of this simple code practice oscillator. Credit should be given to Boy's Life for the basic idea essentially is a buzzer operated by the 117 volt A. C. line current and voltage found in our homes.

This is again simplicity in itself and (except possibly for the wire) all needed parts probably will be found around the house. Can you get something worthwhile and cheaper than that?

What do we need? Well hunt around the house for the following common articles: a cigar box, an empty 1 lb. coffee can, two parafined cardboard washers (naturally you will have cut these out of say an empty milk carton), a scrap of wood 2" wide and just long enough to fit inside the box, a small piece of broom stick, and old hack-saw blade, and some inch wide adhesive tape.

Also, one dozen ½" round head wood screws, a ¼" by 1¾" stove bolt, two onuces of No. 26 enamel covered wire, and a 300 ohm resistor in line cord will be needed. The resistor-in-line cord and wire should not cost over $1.69 if you have to buy these two items. Since this unit is self-powered, it well worth it.

Before starting construction be SURE to scrape the ends of all wire before making any connections; otherwise the insulating enamel on the wire will prevent an electrical connection. Now let's get started in putting our project together. We might proceed in the following manner:

First, we wind the coil. Take the stave bolt and file its head flat. Then put two parafined cardboard washers on one end and wrap the bolt with two layers of tape.

Second, put two more washers on the other end of the bolt. Add a nut Leave an 8 inch lead, wind wire smoothly, NO KINKS, and end up with a 3 inch lead.

Third, mount the wound coil 2½" from one end of the 2" wooden piece of wood and in the center (see picture). Mount a 1¾ inch long by ¾ inch wide strip of metal about 1 inch in from the other end of this small piece of wood. (This makes contact with the key knob screw.)

Fourth, fasten the key knob to the old hack-saw blade with the screw head at the bottom so that it will touch the small metal piece when the knob is pushed down. Use four wood screws to fasten the hack-saw blade down.

Fifth, mount the wooden strip inside the cigar box long ways down the center. Cut off and tape the end of the line cord's black lead. Join red lead to the 3 inch coil lead, the brown lead to the key, and hook the 8" coil lead to terminal below the knob. Of Course the cord should run out a hole cut in the side of the box and have a plug on the other end.

Sixth, cut hole above the coil and key nob. For a loud sounding 'snork," you should add cardboard on top of the box, and then screw the coffee can to the box. The coil will then be in the center of the can, and it will cause the can to vibrate making the noise.

Simple isn't it! Incidentally, the original plans of this simple unit can be found in the February 1952 issue of Boy's Life magazine on page 34.

Once the unit is completed and working, close the cigar box tightly and operate it that way. After all, there are 117 volts in there, and it could (to say the least) be quite shocking if you should accidently get across it! Since it uses the ordinary line socket as source of power to operate, it will work as long as it is plugged in and is keyed.

You Can Make Own Hi-Fi Gear

By Joseph A. Smith

Recently we spoke of methods of planning a desired construction project. Let's now give an example of one method as followed by the author. Perhaps you, my reader, may get some ideas from it.

Let's assume, for example, that we are on the air with our own amateur station gear; likewise, that perhaps some of the family likes good quality music when it is properly reproduced. After all, F.M. radio stations quite often carry excellent musical programs especially in the evening and some A.M. radio stations do also.

Thus you might decide to look into the possibility of constructing some Hi-Fi gear; after all, the entire family can derive enjoyment from this. Amateur radio can sometimes be a one sided affair.

Now the author was one of those (like so many others) who possessed a limited budget, and a wide survey of even wholesale catalogue prices of commercial Hi-Fi was simply frightening to said budget; so it was decided that ye olde brain (and what knowledge of Hi-Fi that we had) would have to figure out our own Hi-Fi set-up.

Getting Know-How

To fill out our knowledge along this Hi-Fi line, we hastened to borrow a sizeable stack of radio magazines; each and every Hi-Fi article there was thoroughly read as were all the articles in the 1959 "Hi-Fi Annual." Considerable credit must be given to K9QGC of Jacksonville (radio station engineer at WLDS) for his bountiful help along this theory line too.

Upon completion of our preproject reading, for background materials and ideas, we took pencil, paper, and ruler in hand and stage by stage worked out the schmedic diagram for our own 11 watt Hi-Fi amplifier of the "Ultra-Linier" type. Desiring to keep it as simple as is consistent with true-fi reproduction (and considering the junk box supply of parts on hand), class "A" operation straight through was decided upon.

A happy compromise between level and distortion, frequency response and audio power output can be achieved through Ultra-Linier type operation of beam power tetrodes; triodes were to be used ahead of these power output tubes for maximum fidelity and minimum distortion.

True Story—

Long-Ago School Girl

By Mary Pence Claywell

Part 2: On Geronimo

Hannah is on her way to school and wondering just how she will cross over the little stream when she hears a voice near by.

"Good Morning," said the owner sweetly, and Hannah turned to hunt the source of the voice. She looked right up into the face of Miss Martha, the new Teacher, sitting astride the tallest horse Hannah had ever seen!

"Want a ride?" said Miss Martha, but Hannah just stood there looking up, wondering how a pint-size girl like herself could ever climb aboard an animal that seemed to reach half way to the sky! But did she want to ride!

Too, she was taking in Miss Martha, fair and plump, and with the bluest eyes she had ever seen. And when she smiled (and Hannah noticed the smile was always followed by a little musical tinkle) two deep dimples appeared in her rosy cheeks. My, but Hannah thought she was pretty!

Will He Kick?

"I don't know if I can get up there," she said softly, "but I'd like to try. . .if he won't kick me!"

"An Geronimo won't kick," said Miss Martha, smiling, "he's as gentle as a kitten! Come here, little girl, give me your hand. Now, when I pull, you climb!" And again, Miss Martha's laughter sounded like little silver bells!

In another moment, Hannah was sitting astride big Geronimo with a little brown foot dangling on either side, holding to Miss Martha's middle very tightly, and thinking how easy it would be to slide off. . .if Geronimo happened to be a rough rider!

But Geronimo forded old Hurricane with the greatest of ease, and in no time at all he had carried them up the long, yellow clay hill and Old Maple School smiled a silent welcome from among the trees.

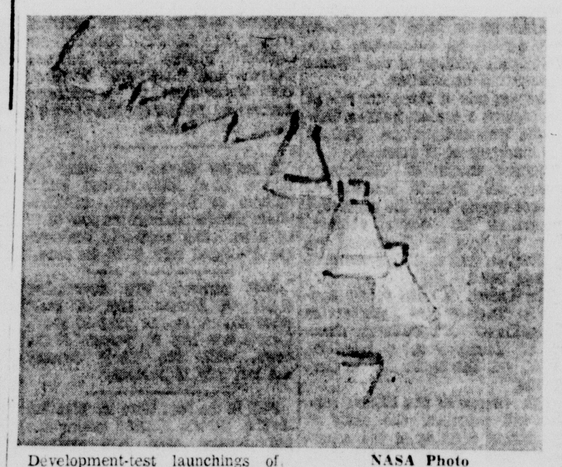
ROCKETS AND SPACE—

Test Space Capsule

By Walter B. Hendrickson Jr.



Development-test launchings of the Project Mercury capsule have been made using the full scale capsule and escape rocket system to test the effectiveness of the escape system.

The capsule's parachute system is also tested by dropping full scale models of the capsule into the ocean from large transport planes. In the multi-exposure picture above a similar test is conducted by dropping a scale model of the capsule into a tank of water.

These tests are conducted by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's (Nash) Research Center. They are part of an extensive research program into all parts of the Project Mercury mission. This mission is to put a man into a 150-mile-high orbit around the earth and bring him back alive.

As the capsule nears the surface of the water it is reflected in the water. This caused the camera to record three images (pictures) of the capsule during the last three exposures of the film. After the capsule hits the water it will float until it is picked up.

In these tests information on the landing characteristics of the capsule are gathered through photographs and instruments.

After the capsule has been slowed down from nearly 18,000 miles-per-hour, by air drag, to near the speed of sound (750 miles-per-hour) a drough chute will open to slow the capsule down still further. When this chute has slowed the capsule down enough another and larger parachute will open. This will slow the capsule down to 20 miles-per-hour by the time it hits the south Atlantic Ocean.

As well as being used to boost the Project Mercury capsule into orbit, the Atlas ICBM is also being used for shorter-range ballistic flights. This is done to develop and prove the capsule structure and heat shield. Other short-range flights have been made using the Little Joe solid fuel rocket. Some will also be made using the Redstone ballistic missile.

Little Joe is a 50-foot-tall rocket powered by a cluster of eight solid fueled rocket. It is used in testing the capsule and its escape rocket system. The little Joes are fired from Wallops Island, Virginia, and the Atlas and Redstone rockets from Cape Canaveral.

On all the Little Joe flights and the first of the Atlas tests the capsule was uninhabited. On the second of these tests a Rhesus monkey, named Sam, was taken on a ballistic flight into space and brought back alive and happy—especially happy to get back to earth!

THE EASTER DINNER

BY DONALD DOWNES

Copyright © 1960 by Donald Downes. Distributed by Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

THE STORY: While Ciccio Massimo works for the underground in Rome in 1944, he is most deeply concerned over food for an Easter dinner to celebrate the engagement of his daughter Rosalba. From the black market and from many sources the family has obtained everything but meat. Easter is tomorrow.

• • •

XVIII

Ciccio found the entire family in a gloomy circle, glumly cleaning a mountain of dandelion greens; Livio had already broken the bad news: Rosalba did not even look up or greet him.

"Livio, we have not fed the pigeons since morning. But you stay here and cut greens. I will go up to the roof. Give me the key."

Livio brought the key from the boys' bedroom and Ciccio climbed to the roof, tired and discouraged. Unlocking and opening the door, he put his hand in the feedbox and threw two or three handfuls to the hungry birds. As they pecked eagerly, he counted them aloud.

"Uno, due, tre. . . .They're all there." If the Signorino Conte doesn't begin eating these birds, they will eat him!—so expensive this grain, he thought, and maybe there won't be any next week. Like charcoal and salt and everything else.

Suddenly the mathematics of the domestic economy involved became clear in his mind. Twenty-three hungry mouths plus 23 fat pigeons equals a solution to the problem. He stared fixedly at the birds: his horror at the idea of eating the Conte's reserves struggled against temptation and against logic.

"Papa?" Rosalba had come up to the roof and stood beside him. She flung herself at him and buried her head in his shoulder, weeping. "What will we do? What will we do? Mamma says she will tell everyone not to come tomorrow. There will be no dinner, no festa. I am so ashamed."

Ciccio took her by the shoulders and held her at arm's length. "Wipe your eyes, carissima. You must smile at me, and when you smile I will tell you that everything is as it should be." She smiled, but with the corners of her mouth still turned down. "We will eat the pigeons. You must help me kill them, and we will carry them downstairs and pluck and clean them now."

"Oh, Papa!" She kissed him and jumped up and down with happiness.

One by one Ciccio and Rosalba wrung the necks of 23 prize homing pigeons of the Signal Corps of the Army of the United States of America.

• • •

Ciccio stood in the kitchen doorway and sniffed with anticipation until his eyes fell on the pigeons. He counted them — 12 lovely browned birds already out of the oven, and seven white, naked-looking ones not yet cooked.

"Who ate the other four pigeons?" he asked with alarm.

"They're in the oven, naturally." Rosalba's voice was pert and happy.

"Pour me a glass of wine. I don't feel well."

Clementina, angrily pressing her lips together, filled a tumbler and handed it to him with a little sigh of disapproval. Averting his eyes from the 19 pigeons, Ciccio drained the glass and returned to his bedroom to dress.

Rosario's wife was the first to arrive, bringing a packet of his letters from the prisoner-of-war camp in India. Ciccio poured two glasses of anisette, for his daughter-in-law and himself. He drank while listening to the letters. He had another glass with Sister Giuseppina, who welcomed a drink because she had left the nunnery in Subiaco before sunrise in a donkey cart belonging to the Mother Superior of her order.

At one o'clock the children came in, spick and span as possible under the circumstances, and seated themselves in straight chairs placed in rows along the walls.

Ciccio had another anisette with the Guastis, who arrived at a little after one o'clock, and still another a few minutes later with Peppino's Zio Augusto, who had brought along a gift of another bottle of cognac and one of Strega. The festa had begun.

As each plate of food was brought to the table conversation died, and the only sound heard above the clatter of knives and forks was the oh-s and ah-s of the smaller children. As each plate was taken away toasts were drunk and gifts presented to Rosalba — mostly gold bracelets or earrings taken out of hock by the two families for the occasion.

When the pigeons were served, aromatic and running in their juice, Ciccio tried to eat his, but a succulent piece of breast tasted like sawdust in his mouth.

• • •

"Aren't you going to eat your pigeon, Papa?" asked Deodata as her father gulped down a glass of wine.

"No," he slid it onto her plate, "but divide it with the twins." He poured himself another glass of wine and thought: Tomorrow I must confess to the Signorino. Maybe he will forgive me.

It was after half past five when —the last toast drunk—the Guastis left, taking Rosalba along to call on some cousins. With the exception of Maria and Deodata, Clementina shooed the rest out of the house to make way for the cleaning up, but Serafina became ill and had to come back and be put to bed.

"It's disgraceful of you, Romolo Massimo, to get drunk at your daughter's engagement party," said Clementina.

Ciccio looked up from where he sat leaning heavily on the table, but made no reply. They left him alone and went about their chores in the kitchen.

Funds Available For Farm Home Improvement

According to Edward J. Collins, county supervisor, Farmers Home Administration, Carlinville, regulations have been changed to permit the making of more Farm Housing loans. The applicant need not be a full-time farmer to be eligible. He would need to produce annually at least $400 worth of commodities based on 1944 prices. The farm would not necessarily need to be paid for since a loan can be made subject to an existing lien.

Farm housing loans are made to farm owners for the construction and repair of farm houses and other essential farm buildings. Most frequent requests recently have been for new dwellings, pole barns and Grade A milk houses.

Loans are payable over periods up to 33 years at 4% interest. Loans may be made when farmers are unable to obtain adequate credit at reasonable rates and terms from other lenders.

Applications and further information on Farm Housing loans may be secured at the headquarters office of the Farmers Home Administration, second floor of the Farm Bureau Building, Carlinville. Morgan county folks may contact Mr. Collins at the Soil Conservation office, Jacksonville, the first and third Thursday mornings of each month.

If South had passed over East's opening no-trump the hand would have played there and East would probably have wriggled it out. Since the game was duplicate, he would ahve scored a total of 90 points. Forty for one no-trump and 50 for the part score.

However, South had come to bid and overcall with two clubs. West was willing to gamble and promptly doubled. North was not too displeased; he did have three clubs to the jack and a couple of queens. South had nowhere to run.

West opened with the king of spades and continued the suit. East took his ace and led a third spade for West to ruff. Now West shifted to a diamond and East tried to cash two diamond tricks only to have South ruff the second one.

South played the ace and king of hearts; ruffed a third heart, dropping East's queen and led a club from dummy.

At this point East had a chance to be a goat. All he had to do would be to play a low club whereupon South would hop up with the king; bump the ace and queen together and make his contract.

However, East rose to the occasion with the ace of clubs and led his last spade. West made his queen of trumps and South had been punished with a bottom score for his bad overcall.

Winchester Woman Most Courteous During Rush Hour

Perhaps, Mrs. James Spencer of Route 1, Winchester, became the most startled motorist during the busy 'five o'clock' rush hour in Jacksonville Wednesday evening. And it wasn't because she almost got hit or hit anyone else while in the process of driving home!

After all, how would you feel if you were a tired secretary in the Trust Department at Elliott Bank just getting off work and after stopping at Kroger's for supplies two women in a car began tooting a horn and waving for you to pull over before you swung the car on its final lap toward home? In most cases you would think something was wrong and quite naturally this is what went through Mrs. Spencer's mind. But when informed she had become the first woman in the Current Courtesy Campaign, co-sponsored by the Journal Courier and Chicago Motor Club, to claim the $10 award she heaved a big sigh of relief as if a great burden had been lifted from her shoulders.

Wednesday's judges, Mrs. Farrell Hansmeier (left), representing the North Jacksonville P.T.A., and Mrs. Bernard Ferry (right), representing Our Saviour's grade school, were elated with their selection of Mrs. Spencer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Matthews of 923 Freedman street. And it wasn't because they got home sooner to put 'supper' on (it took only 18 minutes to discover the fourth $10 Courteous driver) but because Lois Spencer displayed all the basic actions that goes in the makeup of a cautious and courteous motorist especially during a rush hour where everyone is in a hurry to get home to the family.

The judges noted motorists throwing caution to the wind by disregarding all driving rules in an effort to reach the comfort of home five to ten minutes quicker. This was not the case of Mrs. Spencer.

The fourth of six winners to be declared over a three-week period was spotted coming out of the Kroger parking lot. She looked to the right and to the left while stopped before turning right onto West College. Even when a friend in a passing auto tried to get her attention by waving and blowing the car horn, Lois just nodded her head and kept both hands on the steering wheel. She maintained a steady 30 and 35 m.p.h. speed in the marked zones and kept a proper distance behind the westbound automobiles.

She was a winner hands down on Mound Road before she put the left blinker light into operation for the left turn onto Westgate. Mrs. Spencer slowed down for a girl on a bicycle heading west and she had time to pass the cyclist but there was a car coming from the west and instead of darting around, she signaled for a stop. She gave the girl cyclist plenty of room as she passed when the way was clear. Maybe just something minor but it was an act of courtesy toward the school girl on her home from school and it guaranteed Mrs. Spencer and the cyclist the chance to spend the evening at home wrich is better than a hospital bed any old time.

When asked if she had any advice for the young-to-be-drivers, she replied, yes, "Tell them to be sure and take driver's training in high school or let some reliable member of the family teach them." When asked about the older drivers she said, "Tell some of them to keep trying." Mrs. Spencer has been driving for five years and she began in driver's training at Jacksonville High. Have you ever been involved in an accident Mrs. Spencer? Yes, was the reply but, "I wasn't driving. My husband was and it happened when we left on our honeymoon. He smashed the grill in." The judges felt this wouldn't have happened if Mrs. Spencer had been driving.

Mrs. Spencer thanked the judges for the award and said, "I don't feel so bad now about tonight's grocery expenses. I've got my money back."

YOUTHFUL MALAPROP

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)— Mrs. Richard Walker of Des Moines was stumped when her 7-year-old daughter came home from school and asked:

"Are you going to vote for the French fries?"

That was the day Des Moines residents voted on a proposal to grant a power company a 25-year franchise.

The Jacksonville Jaycees have completed arrangements with the local school districts for the distribution of safety books to all children in the primary grades in Morgan County.

Shown in the above picture are Wilfrid Rice on the left, Superintendent of Schools, and Jaycee Roy Mason on the right as they look over the unique book. The book is designed as a color book so the children using it can actually study safety and enjoy themselves at the same time. The books will be distributed throughout the public grade schools, Our Saviour's School, and Salem Lutheran School.

With The Girl Scouts

Wednesday, October 12, will be a big day at the Girl Scout Office in Jacksonville. Illinois Prairie Council will hold a semiannual meeting on that date in connection with an open meeting of the Board of Directors of the Council. It will convene at 9:30 a.m.

All registered adults in Scouting, leaders, assistant leaders, Board members, Board committee members, troop committee mothers and program consultants are all part of the Council.

Come to the meeting Wednesday at the Scout Office and see your Board in action. Mrs. Ralph Sullivan of Jacksonville, president, will be in charge of the meeting. Coffee will be served during the social hour. Selected pictures of Europe will be shown by the chairman of the program committee, Mrs. William Gross of Jacksonville, who has just returned from a tour of several European countries.

Calendar Sales

Calendar sales are going along nicely with several leaders coming at least three times to the Scout Office to pick up calendars. The sale lasts all during the month of October and each calendar sold at 35c nets 15c profit for your troop. Many leaders outside Jacksonville have not called for their supply as yet. Calendars will not be re-ordered this year—they will be distributed on a first-come first-served basis.

Two neighborhood meetings will be held this coming week. Be sure to attend the one in your county. Important plans will be made for celebrating the Birthday Years in Girl Scouting.

Greene County Neighborhood will meet Tuesday, October 11, at 1:30 p.m. in White Hall at Legion Hall. Mrs. Bud Roth of Carrollton is neighborhood chairman.

Cass County Neighborhood will meet at 9:30 a.m. Thursday, October 13, at the Legion Home in Virginia. Mrs. Walter Lohman of Ashland is neighborhood chairman.

Craft Exhibit

Of special interest to Girl Scouts will be the special showing of midwest artists' crafts which will open Sunday, October 9, at the Strawn Art Home in Jacksonville. Many of the crafts on exhibit are outstanding.

Three Board committees met last week. Members of the Camp committee met Wednesday, Oct. 5, and began work on next summer's camping plans. They selected the theme "Hawaii" for camp craft work next summer. Mrs. Howard Houlette of Greenfield is chairman of the Camp committee.

Members of the Public Relations committee met Thursday morning and the Program committee on Friday noon; both of these groups worked hard on plans for the council-wide Birthday Years celebration to be held October 24 at 6:30 p.m. at the Christian church in Jacksonville. Invitations are being sent to all known founders in this area, to leaders of early troops and others who had a part in establishing Girl Scouting. These persons will be guests of honor at the Birthday Years dinner. Invitations will be sent to all registered adults in the four-county area.

Troop News

Girl Scout troops in Carrollton are planning a Founder's Day dinner on Monday, October 10, at the Robin Hood Country club with parents of the girls as guests. Mrs. Friend Wells, who founded one of the first troops in Carrollton, will be guest of honor. Mrs. Robert Hartman, executive director, and Mrs. Ralph Sullivan, president of the Council, will also attend as guests. The Brownie ceremony and the Scout's Own ceremony honoring Juliette Low, founder of Girl Scouting in the U. S. A., will be presented.

Troops in Franklin, Illinois, have all been started on their fall activities. Mrs. Wilma Sowers, leader of Troop No. 101 has a new assistant leader, Mrs. Fred Beck and a new member of her troop committee, Mrs. Ann Tannahill. Mrs. Lester Penick is the new leader of a third grade troop in Franklin. Mrs. Herbert Nelson and Mrs. Winter are her assistants.

Intermediate Troop No. 16 of South Jacksonville is planning a bicycle hike next week. Mrs. Charles Nicholson is the leader and Mrs. Betty Hatcher her assistant.

The girls of Brownie Troop No. 47 of South Jacksonville will have a wiener roast next week at the home of the leader, Mrs. Robert Patterson.

Jacks Swamp Beardstown, 74-0; Routt Drops 13-6 Tilt

Crimsons Break Old Game Scoring Record Of 64 Points In 1958

By STAN SFOTTS
Journal Courier Sports Editor

BEARDSTOWN—Jacksonville High could do no wrong here Friday night as senior halfback and quarterback Gary Spangenberg led the Crimsons to a new individual game scoring record against a hapless Beardstown eleven, 74-0, which eclipsed the old mark of a 64-0 rout of Pittsfield in 1958.

Coach Bob Kraushaar's Crimsons were superior in every department and the issue was never in doubt after JHS used only six plays to account for three touchdowns in the initial period of play for a 21-0 spread.

Jacksonville scored 11 touchdowns with Spangenberg accounting for three of them on some fine open field running. And it took only 37 plays to do all the scoring damage. JHS amassed a total of 518 yards for the game and 493 of them came on the ground. The fired-up Crimsons were just as effective on defense as they held Coach Howard Boudreau's Tigers to a minus-three yards in the first half and a total of 23 for the game in the battle of the 'Strined Jug' which has almost become a permanent fixture in the JHS trophy case.

The Jacks had no idea of setting any kind of a scoring record but Beardstown made it an easy task and once the 'kids' got to 61 points they began pleading with Coaches Kraushaar and Rosenberger to let them try for it. The Crimson mentors took 35 players for the contest and all of them got into action beginning early in the second quarter but the first team never saw action together as a unit once the subs began subbing for subs even when Jacksonville went over the required number of points for the record.

Everyone of the Crimsons who got into the fracas turned in stellar performances whether it was on offense or defense. Names such as Gary Spangenberg, Ron Tomhave, Erland Thady, Ken Norton, Bill Stanford, Wes Coulter, Jack McCarty, Mike Mentler, John Wright, Ron Decker, Larry Hacker, Fred Heidinger, Jono Hildner, Joey Wells, Gary Burgard, Bill Upchurch, Len Rouland and Willie Brown especially stood out as they performed their tasks with skill and finesse.

Off to Flying Start

The Jacks wasted little time in getting their well-polished machine into scoring gear. Bill Stanford took Beardstown's opening kickoff back 57 yards to the Tigers' 29 yard line. Two running plays lost three yards before Spangenberg hit Ron Tomhave with a 21 yard pass to the 11 to set up Ken Norton's tally on a pitchout around left end. Norton booted his first of four straight extra points and a total of five for the contest. The drive required only two minutes and four plays.

Jacksonville struck quickly after some fine defensive work by Spangenberg and Thady forced Beardstown to punt. JHS took over on its own 46. On the first play, Spangenberg took a handoff from Stanford over right tackle, aided one of his blockers with a push of the hand on a Tiger in the secondary, reversed his field and dashed 54 yards to paydirt. Norton's PAT kick made it 14-0 with six minutes remaining.

The Tigers, who never made it over the midfield stripe in the first quarter, fumbled after a first down pickup and center Joey Wells recovered for the Jacks on the Tiger 34. On the first play of the series, Norton on a cross-buck went the distance aided by some potent downfield blocking on the part of Coach Al Rosenberger's linemen. Norton's conversion attempt split the uprights for a 21-0 margin. And the subs began making their way onto the scene.

JHS began another TD drive late in the first canto after Ron Tomhave returned a punt 12 yards to the Beardstown 42. Three plays later the Jacks were resting on the 27 as the first 12 minutes were over.

2nd Period Barrage

QB Billy Stanford quickly registered six more tallies on the Crimson score with a 27 yard scoring dash on the quarterback option play on the first snap of the quarter. A McCarty block opened the scoring gate with 11 minutes and 50 seconds to play before half time. Norton capped the four play, 42 yard drive with his fourth straight conversion for a 28-0 lead.

The Jacks almost scored again following a Tiger punt on an 18 yard run by halfback Willie Brown and a 26 yard jaunt by Ken Norton but the drive was halted on the 18 following a penalty and a backfire on a double reverse which the Crimsons juggled and Beardstown took over on the 24. Beardstown elected to pass on the second play but the intended pass was deflected by Brown into the waiting arms of Spangenberg on the 34. He returned it 15 yards to the 19 yard stripe. The Jacks scored on three plays with Erland Thady carrying over from the five but a penalty offset the counter. Two plays later Willie Brown banged across from the five unmolested and fullback Wes Coulter took a hand at the extra-point kicking and came through for a 35-0 spread with two and a half minutes remaining before Jim Welsh's 175-piece Senior Crimson marching band came on to perform.

But the Crimsons weren't through yet. With a desperate Beardstown crew trying to pick up yardage, QB Mike Cowen elected to try it via passing but Spangenberg plucked off one of his offerings on the 50. The senior co-captain did everything required of a back to go the distance—he sidestepped, stiff-armed, reversed his field and spun away from three would be tacklers to reach his destination and climaxed the finest run of the evening with a diving lunge across the goal line. Norton again kicked and the Tigers were now trailing in the dust, 42-0.

Jacksonville never punted in the contest but Beardstown had to boot three times in the first half for a total of 67 yards. JHS had 231 yards rushing the first two quarters and completed two of three passes for 25 yards. The winners relied strictly on a ground game throughout the 48 minutes of play. Both teams showed five first downs in the initial half.

Continue Onslaught

Beardstown, who didn't get past JHS' 42 yard line in the first half, looked as though it might be a different ball club in the second half as fullback Charles Kirchner returned Norton's kickoff to start the third quarter 35 yards to the mid-field stripe. But the Tigers lost on downs on the JHS 45 when linebacker Erland Thady batted down a fourth-down pass.

Gary Spangenberg then exploded on the first play over left tackle and raced down the sidelines to go 55 yards for the score with the quarter only two minutes old. Norton had two attempts on the point after but the first was blocked and the second was short of the mark.

Another scoring march came when Bill Upchurch, defensive linebacker, intercepted a Tiger pass on the Beardstown 30 and returned it to the 23. QB Bill Stanford on a sweep collected 15 more yards to the eight where Coulter skirted left end for the score. Coulter made good his second of two conversion attempts and JHS commanded a 55-0 lead.

Sophomore fullback Alvin Smith got JHS in position to score again with a pass intercention on Beardstown's 43. An 18 yard run by speedster Willie Brown highlighted the four yard scoring tally by fullback Mike Mentler. Norton attempted an end run on the point after and was stopped with 2:40 left in the third canto. After three quarters, it was Jacksonville 61, Beardstown 0.

Final Go-Around

Beardstown went at possession of the ball fast and furious in the final canto of the wild scoring affair by controlling the ball seven minutes. JHS had only one play during that time and fumbled but it gave the Tigers their deepest penetration into JHS real estate—the 20. The Tigers, who were still minus 13 yards throughout most of the second half, lost ground again on this series and gave up the ball to JHS on the 31. A series of penalty setbacks on the 69 scoring drive looked as though the Crimsons were going to be stymied in a bid for a new scoring record. But runs of 29 yards by Mike Mentler and a 15 yard scamper by end-switched-halfback Ron Tomhave set up a four yard TD on the end around play by Jack McCarty. Tomhave ran the right end for the extra point to give JHS a 68-0 margin and four points more than the old mark of 64 against the Saukees.

One minute and 40 seconds remained in the contest when JHS kicked off for the final time and a short kick strategy worked as the Crimsons recovered on the Beardstown 45.

After a five yard advance to the 40, Spangenberg scooted 28 yards to the 12 but on the next play the Crimsons were penalized 15 yards back to the 25. Erland Thady came through with an outstanding 25 yard run as he broke loose from the grasp of two Tiger defenders and twisted his way into the end zone standing up following his 25 yard dash. This closed the Crimson output as Ken Norton's point after was stopped in the breadbasket of a Tiger lineman. Only 17 seconds remained on the scoreboard but it registered a big 74 for Jacksonville.

The Crimson coaches used mostly second and third team linemen in front of an alternating first and second team backfield throughout the final three quarters while regular halfback Ron Yates, who was injured and not dressed in uniform, watched from the sidelines.

GEE WES! YOU'LL HAVE TO STAY OUT AWHILE

An eager Wes Coulter, Coach Bob Kraushaar's 195 junior fullback and defensive end, is restrained by the head boss of the Crimsons in the third quarter of Jacksonville's 74-0 romp over Beardstown Friday night. Most of the Crimson regulars couldn't have earned their letter if time determines that factor because they got to see only limited action from the first quarter on. But the Jacks will find Jerseyville just a mite tougher in their homecoming meeting next Friday in Jacksonville's first home game four weeks.

Friday Night Scores

Staunton 18, Jerseyville 14

JERSEYVILLE—Staunton found a Jerseyville weakness in the first half and capitalized for three TDs and then held off the Panthers to collect a close 18 to 14 victory.

The Panthers took an early lead as Ross capped a fine drive to score from 10 yards out and Gisy ran the PAT which gave Jerseyville their first seven points. Staunton came right back as Deist scampered 54 yards for the Bulldogs first score around left end. The Bulldogs added two more in the second period as they continued running the ends and scored on dashes of 6 yards by Fran and 12 yards by Ruketich.

Jerseyville's defense toughened up the last half and they held the Bulldogs scoreless but they were only able to get one touchdown, on a 25 yard pass from Durham to Rastus. Staunton is now 4-1 and Jerseyville is 3-1.

Carlinville 34 Mt. Olive 0

CARLINVILLE — The Carlinville Cavaliers scored a safety and five touchdowns to swamp conference rival Mt. Olive in a South Central Conference opener for both squads.

Carlinville scored in the first frame on a bad center which landed out of the end zone for a 2 pointer and the only marker of the quarter. They got things rolling in the next stanza as Mathis scored from 8 yards out. Heven scored from 3 yards, and Daggett went over from the 27 yard marker with Daggett also getting the only extra point.

Dagget added another marker and Mathis fired a 60 yard aerial to Ziegler for the final Cavalier score. The Carlinville defense was outstanding as they held Mt. Olive to a -7 yards rushing the first half and only 21 yards the second, with most of this coming in the air.

Score by quarters:

Carlinville	2	19	6	7
Mt. Olive	0	0	0	0

Roodhouse 28 Winchester 6

ROODHOUSE—The ever powerful Roodhouse Railroaders got their third win in four outings and remained undefeated in the tough Illinois Valley Conference as they gained momentum in the second half to whip Winchester 28 to 6.

Hinegardner scampered 70 yards with a punt return for the first Roodhouse score on the fifth play of the game to give an early indication of what was to come. Parton then capped a drive by going over from the 10 to give the Railroaders a 14-0 lead.

Brockhouse picked up the Wildcats only score on a 5 yard dash in the second quarter but the point after attempt was unsuccessful. The Railroaders got rolling again in the third period as Hinegardner fired a 22 yard scoring pass to Vinyard and Whewell ran the PAT. The final score by Roodhouse was on an 80 yard jaunt by Jameson with a Winchester punt and Parton got the point after.

Score by quarters:

Roodhouse	7	7	14	0
Winchester	0	0	6	0

Greenfield 28 Virginia 7

GREENFIELD — Coach Don Gustine's potent Tigers of Greenfield remained among the undefeated as they picked up their fourth win of the year over conference rival Virginia.

The Tigers played a fine second half to halt any Redbird thoughts of an upset as they continued on their way towards a share of the Illinois Valley Conference crown. The two teams played to a scoreless deadlock in the first period and displayed some fine defense.

Greenfield drew its first blood on a 16 yard dash by Meyer with Wellhausen kicking the first of his four extra points. Virginia came right back on a 6 yard pass from Jokisch to Veltex and got their point after through the same combination. Greenfield scored once again in the second quarter on a 13-yard aerial from Powell to Randell and the Tigers held a 14 to 7 lead at half time.

Coach Bob Hembrough's Redbirds couldn't keep up the pace though and the Tigers added scores on a three yard plunge by Powell and a 48 yard dash by Well with an intercepted pass.

Score By Quarters:

Greenfield	0	14	21	28
Virginia	0	7	7	7

Hardin 7, White Hall 0

HARDIN—Hardin finally scored a touchdown after knocking at the door several times to win their third game of the year and also pick up an important Illinois Valley Conference game.

Hardin was in complete charge throughout as they out rushed White Hall 240 to 83 yards on the ground and 90 to 30 in the air. The deepest White Hall penetration into Hardin territory was in the fourth quarter as they completed 3 passes in a row and moved to the 38.

Hardin got its winning score in the second period on runs by Holloway, Bland, and Schleeper with Bland going over from the 1 yard stripe. Hardin was on the White Hall one yard line once and the three yard marker twice but couldn't get into tht end zone for the TD.

Score by quarters:

Deer-Creek-Mackinaw 47 Petersburg 13

PETERSBURG—The Petersburg Indians were foiled again in attempt to get into the win column as Deer-Creek-Mackinaw ran up a 47 to 13 victory. The Peoria area school scored on a 42 yard jaunt by Reese in the first stanza and were never headed as Reese got his first of three markers. Harris also added a TD for Deer-Creek in the first frame while Danner got both point afters.

Petersburg scored in the third quarter as Dowell intercepted a pass and went 35 yards for the score. He also ran the extra point. Gilbert came right back for Deer-Creek firing a 30 yard marker to Hubner and scored twice more on a blocked punt and a 60 yard pass play. Petersburg scored its final TD on another intercepted pass by Hill who carried it to the 10 from where Moat took it over.

Havana 21 Mt. Sterling 8

HAVANA — Havana scored 21 points the first half and held Brown County the second to pick up its second win in three starts as the Ducks defeated the Mt. Sterling school 21 to 8.

Havana scored first on a blocked punt which was recovered in the end zone by John Sap for the score. Siltman ran the PAT. Stegging got the Ducks' second score of the quarter on a 2 yard plunge to cap a 40 yard drive and Workman ran the point after.

Havana's third and final marker was a 25 yard dash by Cohee in the second period and Workman again ran the PAT. Mt. Sterling tasted its first scoring on a bad center by Havana which the Ducks recovered themselves for a safety. The game then developed into a defensive battle until the fourth period when John McCoy punched over from the two for Mt. Sterling for their final 6 points.

J.H.S. Freshman 14 Hannibal 13

HANNIBAL — The Jacksonville High freshman used a blocked punt and an 80 yard return of a kickoff to nip the Hannibal yearlings 14 to 13 Friday night in a real strange contest. The Crimson underclassmen brought their season record to a respectable 2-1 mark as they came from behind in the final quarter to gain the victory.

The two teams played to a scoreless deadlock in the first frame as neither team could muster a serious threat until the Jacks took over on a fumble recovered by Carter and began a drive up the field. After picking up two first downs one of those rare plays occurred as both officials and the scoreboard became mixed up and indicated a fourth down when in reality it was a Crimson first. The Jacksonville squad was forced to punt under this false impression and Hannibal took only two plays to score as Wilson went around left end for 40 yards and the TD. The all important run for the point after was short, and the half ended 6-0.

In the second half the Crimsons were moving again but the Hannibal fullback picked up a Jacksonville fumble and rambled 40 yards for the score and added the PAT also.

Hannibal then kicked off and fullback Don Carter took it on his own 20 yard marker and followed blockers Dennis and Broome all the way for JHS's first score. Carter also plunged for the PAT.

The fourth quarter was a see-saw affair until Tim Dennis broke through the Hannibal line and blocked a punt to give the young Crimsons the ball on Hannibal's 20 yard line, but Dennis was not finished yet as on the first play he scampered through the line for the touchdown and Carter went around left end for the game winning extra point.

Carrollton 12 Pleasant Hill 7

CARROLLTON — Carrollton and Pleasant Hill had an old fashioned duel Friday night with the Hawks sneaking through with a 12 to 7 victory as they held Pleasant Hill on the 10 yard line in the closing seconds of the contest.

The Hawks scored in the first period as Atwood ran 50 yards to the 3 yard stripe to set up a score by Winters. The attempted run for the PAT was stopped short and the first stanza ended 6 to 0.

Pleasant Hill then took the lead in quarter number two on a 65 yard punt return by Steinberg and passed for the extra point. Carrollton almost scored again as they drove to the three on the strength of a 40 yard dash by Shannon but Pleasant Hill held and contained the Hawks' scoring threats until with 6 minutes left in the contest Winters moved 20 yards to the 4 from where Shannon took it over for the winning marker.

Pleasant Hill was not through yet as they took the kick off and marched down to the Hawk 10 yard line from where a pass fell incomplete to end the Illinois Valley contest.

Pittsburgh And Chicago Granted NBA Franchises

NEW YORK (AP)—Chicago and Pittsburgh Friday were granted franchises in the National Basketball Association beginning with the 1961-62 season. The addition of the two cities, franchise holders in the old Basketball Association of America, boosted the NBA's membership to 10 teams.

After awarding the new franchises, the NBA's board of governors also voted to boost each team's player squad.

Instead of being limited to 10 players, each team will be permitted to carry 12 until Dec. 15. After that the clubs will be able to carry 11 players but will be able to dress only 10 for competition.

A league spokesman indicated the two new teams will be stocked by players from other clubs plus college grads picked up in next April's draft.

The eight present teams will be able to keep their top seven players. The others will be subject to draft by the Chicago and Pittsburgh teams.

In a $7,500 purse at the Atlantic City thoroughbred meeting, the winner takes down $4,500. In the minimum claimer of $2,500, the winner gets $1,500.

Saukees Smother Illinois Deaf, 41-6

PITTSFIELD — Coach Glenn Smith's Pittsfield Saukees punctured the Illinois School for the Deaf secondary with a potent aerial attack and a solid ground game to garner a 41 to 0 decision Friday night at Pittsfield. The Saukees used the passing of McGinnis and the running of fullback Shaw got seven touchdowns and five extra points.

Pittsfield opened the scoring via a 39 yard pass play from McGinnis to Harmison and Shaw ran the first of his three extra markers. McGinnis used sophomore Boyd as his target and scored on a 25 yard pass. Shaw again ran the PAT and the Saukees held a 14-0 lead at the quarter.

Coach Jim Bonds' I.S.D. Tigers just couldn't contain the fine throwing of McGinnis and the powerful running of Shaw and were not able to muster an effective machine of their own. They were able to run Pittsfield's ends with fair success but seemed to be stymied in scoring drives.

Shaw picked up touchdowns in the second and third quarters and I.S.D. got its six points on runs by Poncar, Jackson, and Miller, with Jackson going in for the score from the 18 around his own left end. The attempted kick for the point after was no good.

Pittsfield got two more markers in the final stanza as McGinnis hit Harmison again from 28 yards out and then Haskins intercepted a Tiger pitchout on the 12 yard line and went in for the score.

McGinnis completed 7 of 9 passes to lead the Saukees to their third win in four decisions while I.S.D. is now 0-3-1.

CHECK OUT OF HOSPITAL

BALTIMORE (AP)—Baltimore Oriole outfielders Jack Brandt and Gene Stephens checked out of Union Memorial Hospital Friday, four days after each underwent surgery.

Brandt, who batted .252 and clouted 15 home runs for the second place Birds this season, had a bone chip removed from between the thumb and forefinger of his right hand.

Rockets Knocked From Undefeated Ranks By Waverly Scotties, 13-6

WAVERLY — Coach Bob Winstead's Routt Rockets were knocked from the undefeated ranks Friday night by a rugged Waverly team as the Rockets were unable to move the ball against the tough Scottie forward wall.

Coach Bob Teater's Scotties were in control throughout most of the contest as his front lineup of Green, Mies, Noble, Minor, and Dunseth not only put the heat on, on defense, but charged well on offense to lead Waverly to their third win in four outings.

The first quarter was a scoreless affair as the two clubs traded punts and looked for weak spots. The Scotties scored first on a 30 yard pass from Jay Dunseth to Steve Stults in the second period and Dunseth kicked the point after. The half ended in the 7-0 score as the Rockets just couldn't get past that fine front aggregate.

In the third period Waverly scored again as Jim Fitzpatrick ripped off tackle for 38 yards and a 13-0 lead for the Scotties. Routt got its marker in the final stanza on a 48 yard pass play from Fred Curtis to Bob Brennan. Curtis did a fine job of throwing for the Rockets as the Waverly line continuously rushed so hard that he had very little time to get a good aerial away.

Waverly had TDs of 48 and 98 yards called back via the penalty route which seemed to plague the whole contest. The Rockets had their bad luck too, as their starting quarterback, Bucky Sullivan was lost early in the third quarter with a knee injury.

As I See It

by E. W. BROWN

We see where the government is asking industry to help figure out how to build a 3-passenger spaceship to fly around the moon and back. The plan is called Project Apollo and it's supposed to take place some time in 1968. It sounds all right . . . until you remember that recently someone said the first space travelers would be women, instead of men. And then you you think of something else, the reason the desert sheiks with the 4 wives have that particular number. One wife, they say, gets lonesome. Add another for company, and the 2 fight. Add a 3rd, and 2 of them pair off and gang up on the other. With 4, say the sheiks, each has a friend, but with 2 against 2, they don't fight. With this bit of practical wisdom of the East in mind, a 3-woman flight around the moon seems an impractical idea. Looks like they'd better make it a 4-woman spaceship . . . or forget the whole thing.

STAR BOARDER

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—It doesn't take much to keep Junior happy. She has lived at a service station since she was abandoned there.

Once a day she waits for a break in traffic and crosses the street to collect her daily meal, a tomato, from a friendly grocer.

At night she rents at the station, repaying the kindness shown her by warding off potential burglars with her own special alarm system.
